In olden days honor and truth and courtesy were valued above rubies and gold, so today are those same traits revered and cherished. Sir Galahad, the flower of knighthood, who most observed these virtues has been the ideal of the youth of every age. Galahad is the embodiment of the spirit of high ideals which Galesburg High School has ever tried to instill in its students.

To that spirit of high ideals, of worthwhile purposes, and of noble citizenship, we dedicate this 1930 REFLECTOR.

“My strength is as the strength of ten,
Because my heart is pure.”

—TENNYSON.

Managers of Athletics

These are the seniors who supervised the assignment of school uniforms, and were responsible for all school athletic property. Under the system existing when these students were selected, each of the boys pictured above has worked four years, except Billie Richardson who completed his high school course in three years. The plan of having assistant managers from the three underclasses has since been abandoned in favor of assistants chosen from the junior class alone.

Harry Stephenson was the football manager this year. He "totes" the old water bucket.

The ready smile and ever present good humor of basketball manager Bernard Burford made him a big favorite with the players.

Joe Morgan and Billie Richardson were the senior track managers. These boys have had the distinction of managing two national championship relay teams.

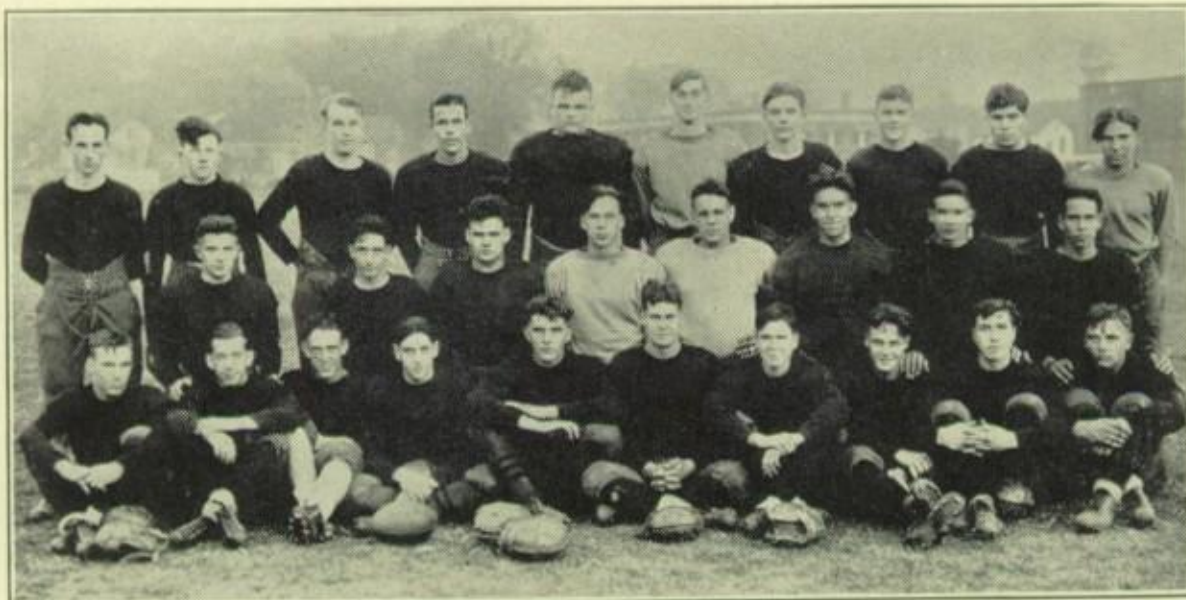

Football

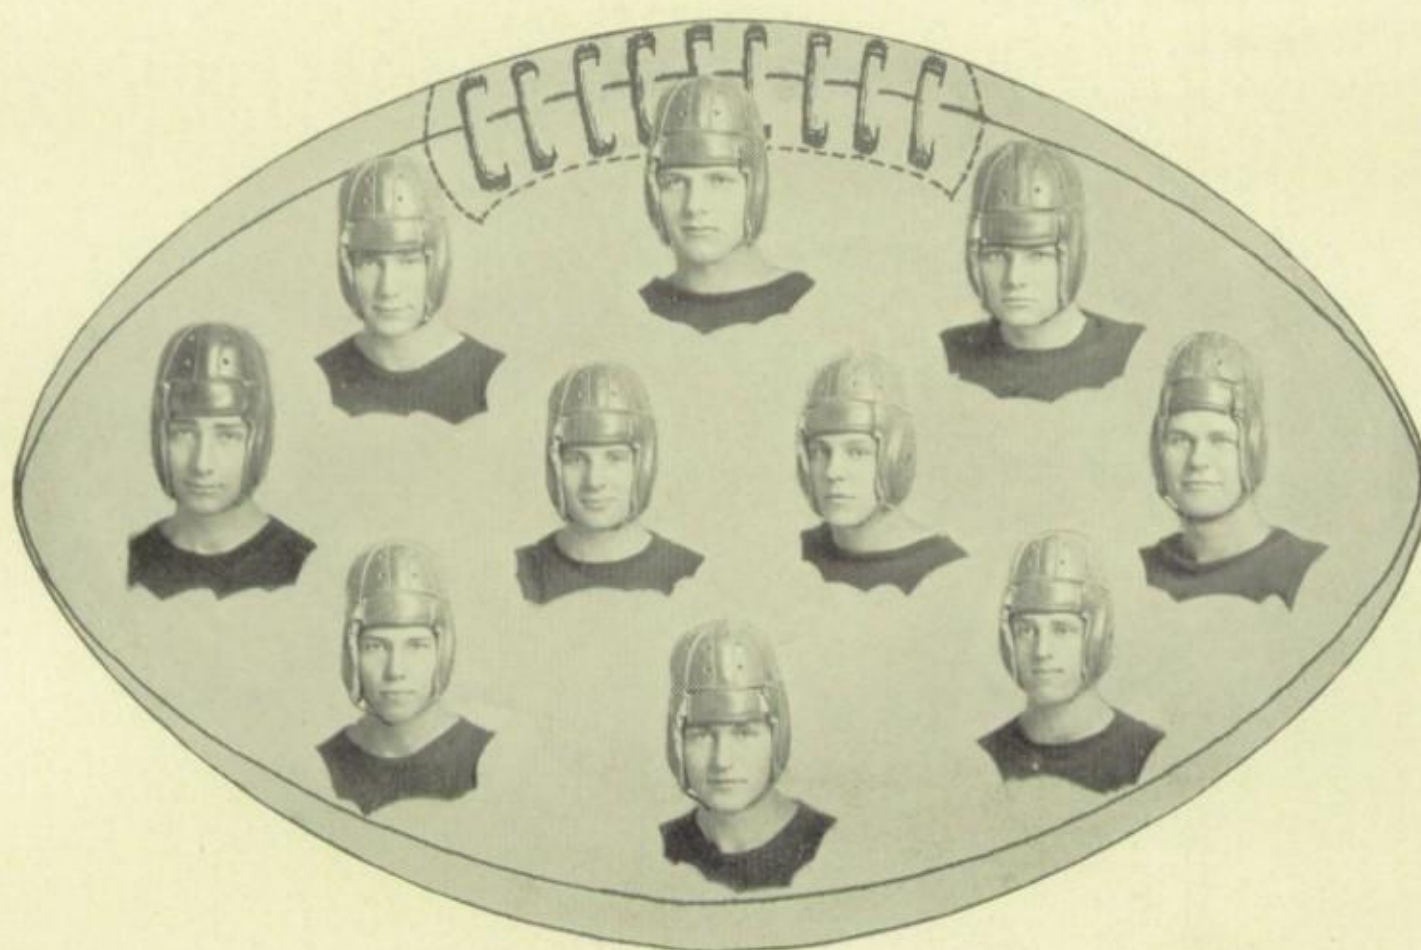

Coach Gillespie

During the seven year regime of football coach John W. Gillespie, Galesburg High School football teams have risen to a position which places them among the best teams of the state. "Coach" should be commended because, although he works for wins, he has never forgotten that a successful season cannot be measured only in the terms of games won and lost, but that the spirit of the players and the lessons that they carry from the football field into life are other factors which enter into any successful campaign. Each year Coach Gillespie has given us what we wanted—a team that has played not only for themselves but also for us. What more can anyone ask?

Football Captains

This year a new system of selecting football captains was inaugurated. Ralph Anderson, a letter man for three years, was rewarded with the season's captaincy of the squad but before each game a field captain was appointed by the coach from the senior members of the squad, to lead the team in that particular game.

This plan proved to be a big success and will probably be followed during the coming season.

RALPH ANDERSON

During his four years with the squad, "Andy" has won three letters. At his old tackle position he again proved his dependability by playing in every game of a nine game schedule.

ROBERT OLSON

"Bob" was one of the eight linemen who won letters this year. He was equally efficient at either tackle or guard and he will leave a big gap in the forward wall next year.

DALE STAFFORD

"Staff" was the line plunger of the Tiger backfield. He was also used at the end position where his great defensive play earned him a berth on the Big Nine all-star team.

EARL PICO

"Jack" was the speed-boy of the silver and gold eleven. His brilliant open field running and ability to snag passes made him dangerous at all times.

EARL MOREHEAD

Earl started the season as a halfback but was shifted to end following Scott's injury. Earl's speed on getting down the field under punts was his biggest asset.

FRANK SNYDER

Frank, one of the outstanding football players in the state, received all-state mention as a guard. He was also used in the backfield and as an end.

FORREST VENELL

"Shalk" was again one of the important cogs in the Gillespie machine. His ability to keep a cool head when "under fire" made Venell a good man to have around.

ELMER SWEAT

"Horse" completed his second and final year as the first string center. Elmer's size and aggressiveness made more than one opponent wish that he had taken up debate instead of football.

ERIC JOHNSON

Although handicapped by injuries received during the '28 season, Eric came through to win another letter this year. He was a fullback who made up in fight what he lacked in weight.

ARTHUR RATCLIFFE

"Art" was a husky tackle who won his second letter during the past campaign. His height and weight made him a bulwark of strength in the line.

CULVER MILLS

Turning from the basketball court to the grid-iron "Coke" proved his all-around ability by earning a regular halfback berth. A deceiving change of pace was his most dangerous weapon.

HOWARD ASHLEY

"Hod" was such a star at quarterback that he was honored with that position on the Big Nine all-star team. He was a fine punter and a deadly tackler.

EARL IRONS

Not even a broken nose received during the Rock Island game could keep Earl from winning a letter. He played end.

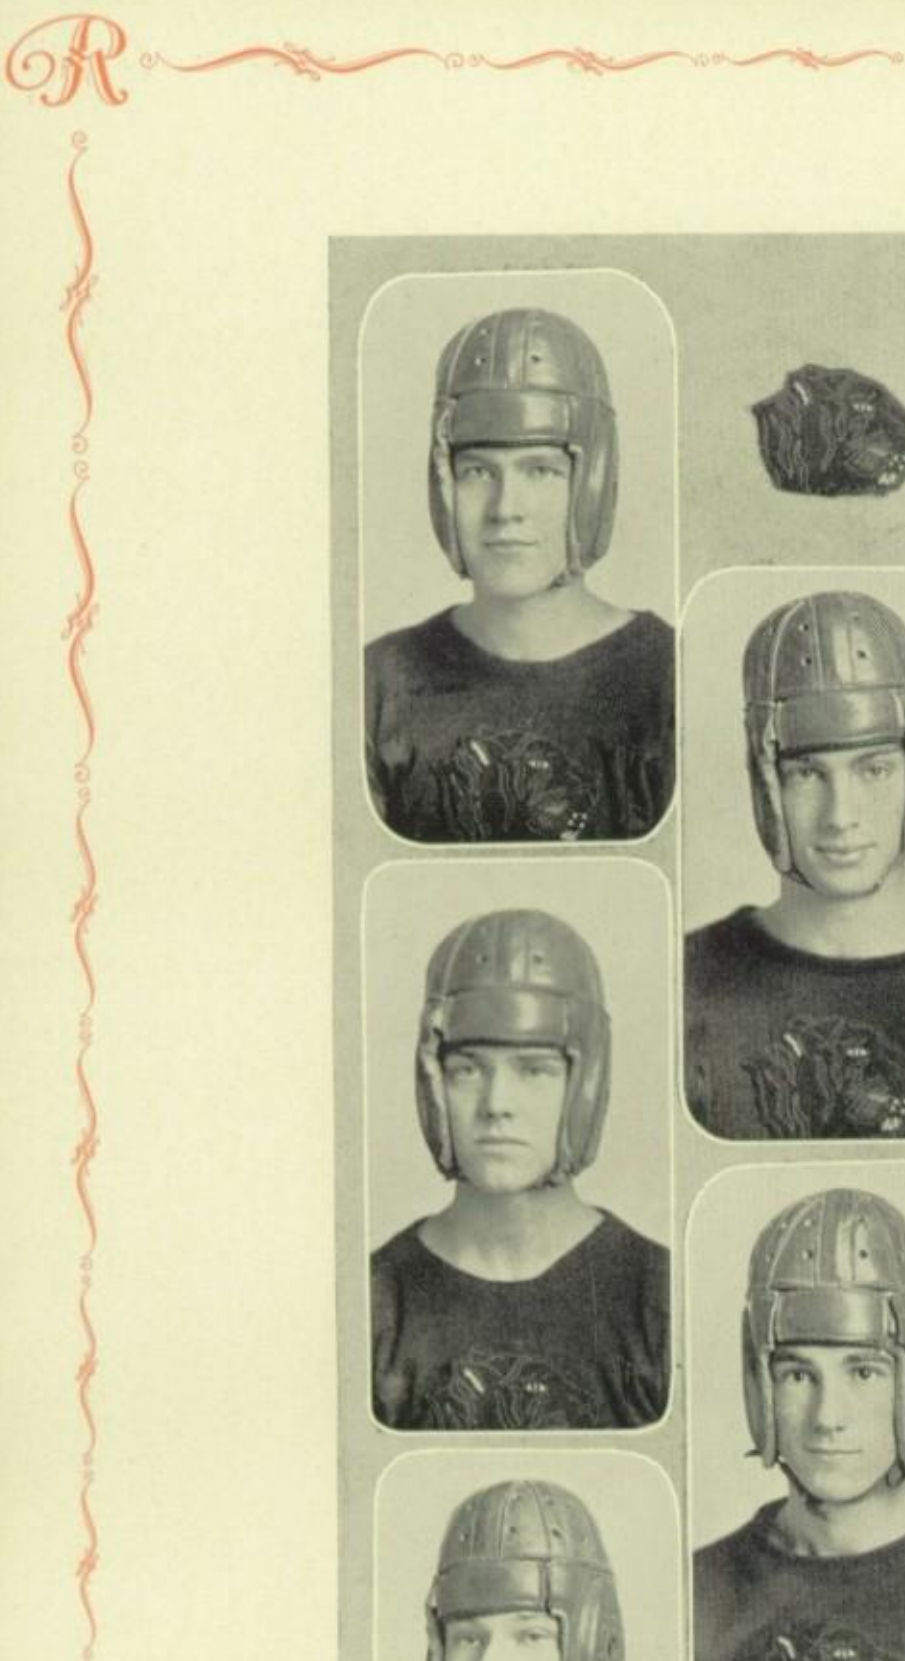

PAUL JACOBSON

Paul was a second string guard who gave all he had for the success of the team.

PHILIP JOHNS

Whose picture does not appear in this group, would have been a letter man had he remained in school. He was a guard.

ROSS SCOTT

"Scotty" was a regular end until he received a leg injury in the Moline game which kept him on the bench for the greater part of the season.

PAUL BUSSE

Paul was a speedy end who proved to be a very reliable substitute. He was a conscientious worker and a big asset to the team.

ALMON DANFORTH

"Danny", although greatly handicapped by lack of weight, made Sweat step to hold his center position. His passes were accurate and he was a stonewall on defense.

HAROLD MAGOON

"Moogie" was a hard-hitting fullback who knew how to take it. Only an unusual number of good backfield candidates kept him out of the regular lineup.

CLARENCE NELSON

Clarence was a lineman and did his share whenever called upon. Lack of experience seemed to be his only drawback.

HENRY McLEESE

"Heavy" was the big boy of the squad but displayed surprising agility in spite of his great weight. He should fill a big gap in the line next year.

VENCIL STEVENS

The only sophomore on the squad was this smashing fullback. Great things are expected of "Stevie" in the next two years.

TIGER CLASH WITH ROCK ISLAND ENDS IN SCORELESS TIE

Two fighting elevens, one from Galesburg, the other from Rock Island, held each other to a scoreless tie on Willard field. Neither the straight plunging attack of the silver and gold nor the flashy end runs and passes of Rock Island could make gains consistently.

The main feature of the game was a brilliant punting duel between Ashley of Galesburg and Taylor of Rock Island, which resulted with honors about even.

The Islanders came heralded as a great passing machine, but the G. H. S. warriors had developed a defense against these passes that stopped them for little gain. Rock Island hurled pass after pass but completed only two, while three were intercepted. Galesburg attempted eight, two of which were completed and one intercepted.

The arsenal team pushed the ball deep into silver and gold territory during the first quarter before the "Burgers" took the ball on downs, and Ashley punted out of danger.

Freak Run Wins For Boilermakers

A 65 yard run by Talliferro, flashy Kewanee colored star, in the final minute of play gave Kewanee a hard earned 7 to 0 victory over Galesburg on Knox field.

The two elevens were evenly matched, each having a heavy line but a light backfield. Throughout the game, however, Galesburg showed great defensive play in halting the Kewanee attack.

Late in the last quarter the Boilermakers starting with the ball on their own 20 yard line, advanced to the 35 yard marker by plays around end and line bucks. Talliferro then broke loose and romped 65 yards down the field for the winning score. A short pass was responsible for the extra point.

SIDE SLANTS

Coach Gillespie calls this year's squad one of the best "practicing" squads that he has handled. In former years it has often been a problem to keep enough good second string men throughout the season who could give the varsity the stiff practice they needed. No such problem faced the coaches this year.

The Toledo game was probably responsible for the unusually large turnout and the fine spirit displayed at all times. It seems that almost everyone likes to travel.

The "ole dope bucket" proved to be correct as regards the Galesburg-Kewanee game. Kewanee defeated Rock Island 7 to 0, whereas Galesburg was held to a scoreless tie by the Islanders. Thus according to "ole man dope", Kewanee should have beaten Galesburg by seven points which was exactly what happened.

Believe it or not but we have discovered that the locals' rather mediocre season can be blamed on the sun. Sunshine seemed to have an inspiring effect on the silver and gold gridders. "Old man Sol" was at his best when Galesburg swamped Canton 43 to 0, and there was plenty of sunlight the afternoon that the "Tigers" ran wild over Quincy. The sky was overcast with dark clouds during the games with Alexis, Moline, Toledo, and Monmouth, all of which ended unfavorably for the locals.

Following this line of reasoning, if the sun had made its appearance during every game of the schedule, Galesburg would have lost only one game, that to Kewanee; so blame it on the sun.

Stafford's successful place-kick for the extra point after the third touchdown of the Quincy game was the only point after touchdown scored by the silver and gold this season (except when the opposing team was penalized in the Canton and Macomb games and thus forfeited the extra point to the "Tigers").

The locals' 7 to 6 loss to Alexis was the only game in which this failure to find the range proved disastrous.

G. H. S. BOWS TO EAST IN INTERSECTIONAL GRIDIRON BATTLE

The Midwest lost a hard-fought football game to the East when the green of Scott High, Toledo, crushed the silver and gold of Galesburg 27 to 0, on Scott field. In spite of the fairly large score, Galesburg gave their opponents a stiff battle. The speed, splendid interference, and smooth working plays of the Toledo team proved to be a tough combination for the "Tiger" defense.

Scott made three touchdowns and three successful tries for the point after touchdown to lead the visitors from the west 21 to 0 at half time. The Scott High team failed to score again until the closing minutes after the G. H. S. substitutes had entered the game.

Toledo made ten first downs, whereas Galesburg netted four. The "Tigers" held an advantage during the second half because of Ashley's great punting. The entire Galesburg squad of twenty-three players got into the game while Toledo made but two substitutions.

Alexis Defeats G. H. S. In 7-6 Tilt

A fake play spelled out a 7 to 6 defeat for the Galesburg gridders in the opening game of the year. After an 80 yard march down the field which netted a touchdown late in the first half, the Reed men scored the point after touchdown that meant defeat for the locals by fooling them with a fake kick play.

The Galesburg score came during the third quarter when Morehead carried the ball over from the three yard line terminating a 47 yard trek down the field. Ashley's drop kick for the extra point failed.

In the closing minutes the home team opened up with an aerial attack which met with but little success.

GALESBURG ELEVEN DOWNS CANTON 43-0 WITH FLASHY ATTACK

In a game featured by the flashy end runs and powerful line smashes of the Galesburg backs, Galesburg downed Canton high on the Canton field by a 43 to 0 score.

The first score of the game came early in the first quarter when an orange and blue punt was blocked and recovered by Johns. Stafford then carried the ball to the 8 yard marker. Ashley made 7 yards and Stafford went over for the score. Ashley missed the try for point after touchdown. The "Tigers" scored again on Ashley's 40 yard end run. "Hod's" drop-kick didn't count because Galesburg was holding. After a series of runs by Morehead and Pico, Stafford made the third touchdown on a wide end run. Ashley's try was blocked. Galesburg 18, Canton 0.

During the second half the silver and gold made two more touchdowns on straight football. Pico's 45 yard end run accounted for the locals' final score.

G. H. S. Gridders Drop Macomb 7-0

A thirty yard pass, Venell to Snyder, paved the way for Galesburg's 7 to 0 victory over Macomb high at Macomb. The long pass placed the ball on the three yard line from where Mills plunged over for the lone marker of the game. On the try for the extra point Macomb was penalized for holding, making the score Galesburg 7, Macomb 0.

The first half was a kicking duel between Mills of Galesburg and Price of Macomb with Mills capturing the honors.

The only score came shortly after the start of the second half. The remainder of the game was a repetition of the first half with neither team gaining any decided advantage.

Gridders Honored At Hi-Y Banquet

Returning from the football field to the Galesburg club, twenty-one football players of G. H. S. were banqueted by the Boys' Hi-Y club.

Robert Miller, president of the hosts, introduced coaches Gillespie and Phillips who thanked the team for the co-operation shown during the past season. Ralph Anderson, who captained the team this year, gave a short address, and "Coke" Mills spoke for the underclassmen members of the squad. I. D. Pennock, former Illinois Wesleyan athlete, was the principal speaker of the evening.

The affair was a huge success until "Schalk" Venell became excited (while explaining how he threw the pass that won the Macomb game) and hit Earl Morehead in the eye with a forkful of lima beans. Earl retaliated with a slab of butter, and a general riot was pending when referee Gillespie stepped in and called the fray a draw.

Plowboy Rally Defeats Locals

Coach Art Seneff's Moline plowboys were held to a standstill for three periods on Browning field at Moline by the Galesburg gridders, but through a sudden attack in the last five minutes Moline won 9 to 0.

A blocked punt, which was recovered by Ashley behind his own goal line for a safety, proved to be the turning point of the game. When Ashley then kicked from formation, Cutbirth, quarterback for the plows, returned the ball fifty yards to the Galesburg 22 yard line. Captain Straw then went over for a touchdown on a wide end run. He also kicked goal, and the game ended with Moline leading 9 to 0.

Galesburg netted five first downs, all in the first half, compared with four for Moline. Up until the final five minutes the "Tigers" displayed a superior brand of defensive football.

GALESBURG SWAMPS QUINCY TO AVENGE FORMER REVERSES

By downing the strong Quincy eleven, 19 to 7, on Lombard field, Galesburg high school's football team paid a debt of two years' standing. The score does not indicate the complete superiority of the Gillespie machine over its downstate rival.

Galesburg scored early in the first period when, after a drive to Quincy's 27 yard line, Mills twisted and squirmed his way to a touchdown. Stafford's placement for the extra point was wide, leaving the score Galesburg 6, Quincy 0.

Galesburg counted again in the third quarter on Stafford's drive through the line after the ball had been advanced fifty yards by straight football. Stafford's placekick was wide. Score: Galesburg 12, Quincy 0. Pico crossed the goal again in the final stanza, and Stafford's try was good, giving the locals a 19 to 0 lead.

The Quincy eleven's only score came late in the game by means of a belated aerial attack. The extra point was made via the dropkick route.

"Tigers" Lose 7-0 In Grid Finale

Unleashing a brilliant line attack, through which they scored one touchdown and threatened twice more, Monmouth high school administered Galesburg a 7 to 0 defeat, in a game which brought down the curtain on the 1929 grid season for both teams and marked the final appearance of Anderson, Sweat, Olson, Johns, Snyder, Morehead, Johnson, Ratcliffe, Danforth, Pico, Stafford, Nelson, Venell, Magoon, Busse, and Jacobson.

Before the first quarter was ten minutes old, the Maple City gridders made the lone touchdown of the game on a series of driving line plays. Teyro counted the extra point through the line. Monmouth threatened twice again during the third quarter but each time the silver and gold stiffened and held for downs.

Basketball

Coach Phillips

Coach Phillips

Coach Phillips came to Galesburg as head basketball coach this year from Goshen, Indiana, where during four years of coaching he had established an enviable record. This season, with an unusually stiff schedule and but two lettermen around which to build his team, he came through with eleven wins and five losses. Mr. Phillips introduced a new system which completely bewildered the majority of his opponents. The student body of Galesburg high school should consider itself extremely fortunate in having a basketball mentor of Coach Phillips' caliber.

BASKETBALL CAPTAINS

H. Ashley

W. Robinson

E. Sargent

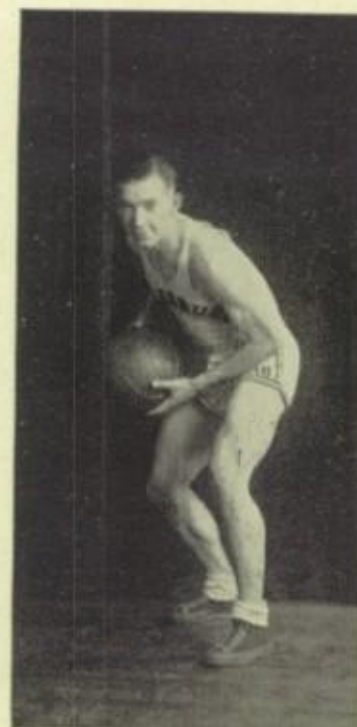

C. Mills

P. Coyle

HOWARD ASHLEY

(Guard)

"Hod", playing his second season as a guard, lived up to his reputation as stellar defensive man. His clever floor work and basket shooting ability labeled him as one of the best players in this section of the state.

CULVER MILLS

(Forward)

"Coke" in completing his second year on the varsity squad led the silver and gold in scoring with 117 points. Besides his position as the main cog in the Galesburg offense he also displayed brilliant defensive ability.

WAYNE ROBINSON

(Center)

"Robbie" was a player who developed as the season progressed and by mid-season he attained rare form as a pivot man. Robinson usually got the tip off from the opposing center and he often came through with a follow-in shot when it was needed.

PHILIP COYLE

(Forward)

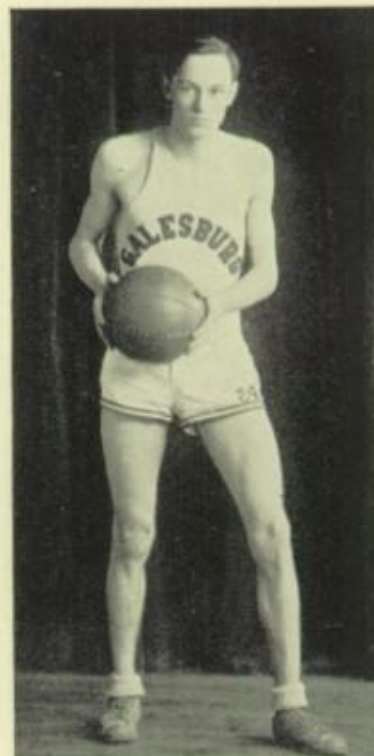

"Piper" although not a heavy scorer, did excellent floor work all season and was an important cog in Coach Phillips' machine. He possessed an unusual faculty for intercepting opponent's passes and breaking up their attack.

PAUL MITCHELL

(Guard)

"Petey" played guard but was able to break into the scoring column consistently. His last minute field goals clinched more than one game for the locals. Teamed with Ashley, Mitchell completed a first class defensive combination.

EVERETT SARGENT

(Guard)

"Sarg", a letter man last year, returned to the silver and gold quintet during the second semester of the past season. Because of his late start, however, he was unable to round into form quickly enough to capture his old position on the squad.

ROBERT ANDERSON

(Forward)

"Bob" was another forward who earned a letter this year. His speed, cleverness, and good eye for the basket, more than made up for his lack of size. Anderson should develop into a star of the first magnitude during the coming season.

CARROLL BRIGGS

(Guard)

"Tippie" was a senior who was included in the line-up often enough to win a letter. He had plenty of speed and handled the ball nicely. On the defense he watched his man like a hawk. Briggs is lost to next year's squad through graduation.

KENNETH HARTMAN

(Center)

"Kenny" has a nice build for a basketball player, but he was handicapped during the past season by lack of experience. With this year's experience behind him he should develop into a first class center next year.

CLIFFORD VESTAL

(Forward)

"Cliff", playing his first season with a G. H. S. quintet, displayed sufficient speed and cleverness to gain him a position on the traveling squad. Next year he should develop into a first string player.

SIDNEY KING

(Forward)

"Sid", a graduate of last year's "pony" squad, earned a place on the varsity squad by his brilliant floor work. King did not appear in many games but he could be relied upon whenever his chance came. He will be back next year.

DONALD HERLOCKER

(Guard)

"Herky" again won a position on the squad because of his consistent playing as a defensive man. When in the game his work was invariably commendable. He is a senior and his loss will be severely felt next year.

True Confessions

of the G. H. S. Basketball Squad of 1929-30

(If the members of this year's basketball squad were to make their true confessions, the following would probably be the result:

"HOD" ASHLEY—I attribute my success to three things. One is my natural ability, but I can't seem to remember the other two. In order to become hardened for the strenuous season, my training diet consisted of rock candy and hard cider.

"COKE" MILLS—My advice to any hopeful athlete is to follow my own example and get plenty of sleep by not staying out later than three A. M. Always eat plenty of little, rare smelts. Remember that all comes to those who wait—if they know where to wait.

"PIPER" COYLE—I acquired my great strength through a daily diet of hard tack and marble cake. The only bad thing about basketball is that one is forced to take so many trips to other cities where the spectators are sometimes unsympathetic.

"PETE" MITCHELL—I came out for basketball to get out of fall house cleaning. Imagine my chagrin when I was placed on the varsity team and had to stay out all season. I gained my great strength by carrying samples for a locomotive salesman.

"ROBBIE" ROBINSON—While Pete was very busily engaged, I too, was acquiring super-human strength in a similar occupation. I carried samples for a real estate salesman. I did not like this job because it was so dusty.

"BOB" ANDERSON—My towering height and manly strength came from eating giraffe meat and onions. I gained my love for basketball by attending tiddley wink tournaments.

"TIPPIE" BRIGGS—My first basketball experience was received while playing on the Cameron Correspondence College team. Before I took this wonderful basketball training course, I knew nothing of the ethics of the court game. Now I know twice that much.

"SARG" SARGENT—(The following confession was received by mail). This is a proud dy in my young life. Alas, Alas, if my old skule teecher bak in Wady Petra cood have lived to sea this dy, she wood kall her misshum on this wercld a suksess. (No doubt that this is interesting, Everett, but I believe it is a little off the subject).

"KENNY" HARTMAN—The greatest moment of my basketball career came during the Big Nine track meet when I made that fifty-yard dash around end before I was tackled by the right fielder.

"SID" KING—I came out for basketball in order to get a good seat on the players' bench at all the games. Imagine my embarrassment when I had to play once.

"CLIFF" VESTAL—As a diet to enable me to toughen up for the strenuous season I ate two bricks (of ice cream) followed by a swig of iron water before every meal. I gained my great speed and endurance while acting as truant officer for a correspondence school.

"DON" HERLOCKER—Basketball took up so much of my time that it ruined my chances of selling enough perfume to win that magic lantern I was working for.

Frosh-Soph Basketball

The "pony" team completed the past season with a record of eight wins and three losses. The regulars, composed of Tucker, Robinson, Myers, Burford and Derby, presented an exceptionally well balanced and smooth working attack which completely baffled the majority of their larger opponents.

The scoring combination of Robinson and Tucker accounted for a great many of the team's points while Myers, Burford and Derby held the opposition in check by their unerring defensive play.

From this group some excellent material should be uncovered for next year's varsity squad. Coach Ferris should be commended because of this fine record in his first year at G. H. S.

Track

COACH GILLESPIE

Track coach John Gillespie is the man who has made the name of Galesburg High School synonymous with championship relay teams. In the past four years his two mile relay teams besides breaking two national interscholastic records have won firsts at many of the leading relay meets of the country.

He has developed many great track athletes and has gained nation-wide fame for Galesburg. With his return next year the outlook for the locals on the cinder path gleams more brilliantly than ever.

CAPTAIN MALLIN

Captain "Hub" Mallin was the only member of last year's nationally famous relay team who was available for the present season. Mallin is the conscientious type of athlete who regards his training seriously and has arisen to his present position by his determination and ability to follow instructions. "Hub" has been an excellent leader and his loss will be keenly felt next year.

Spring Football

Over 100 candidates reported for spring football practice this year. This plan for a pre-season workout was put into action for the first time last spring and, because of its highly satisfactory results, was continued this year. Since special stress was placed on fundamentals, the coaches believe that during the coming season advanced football can be taken up with but little delay.

Coaches Phillips, Johnson, Smith, Ferris, and Seiler were in charge.

Big Nine Declamation and Extempore Contests

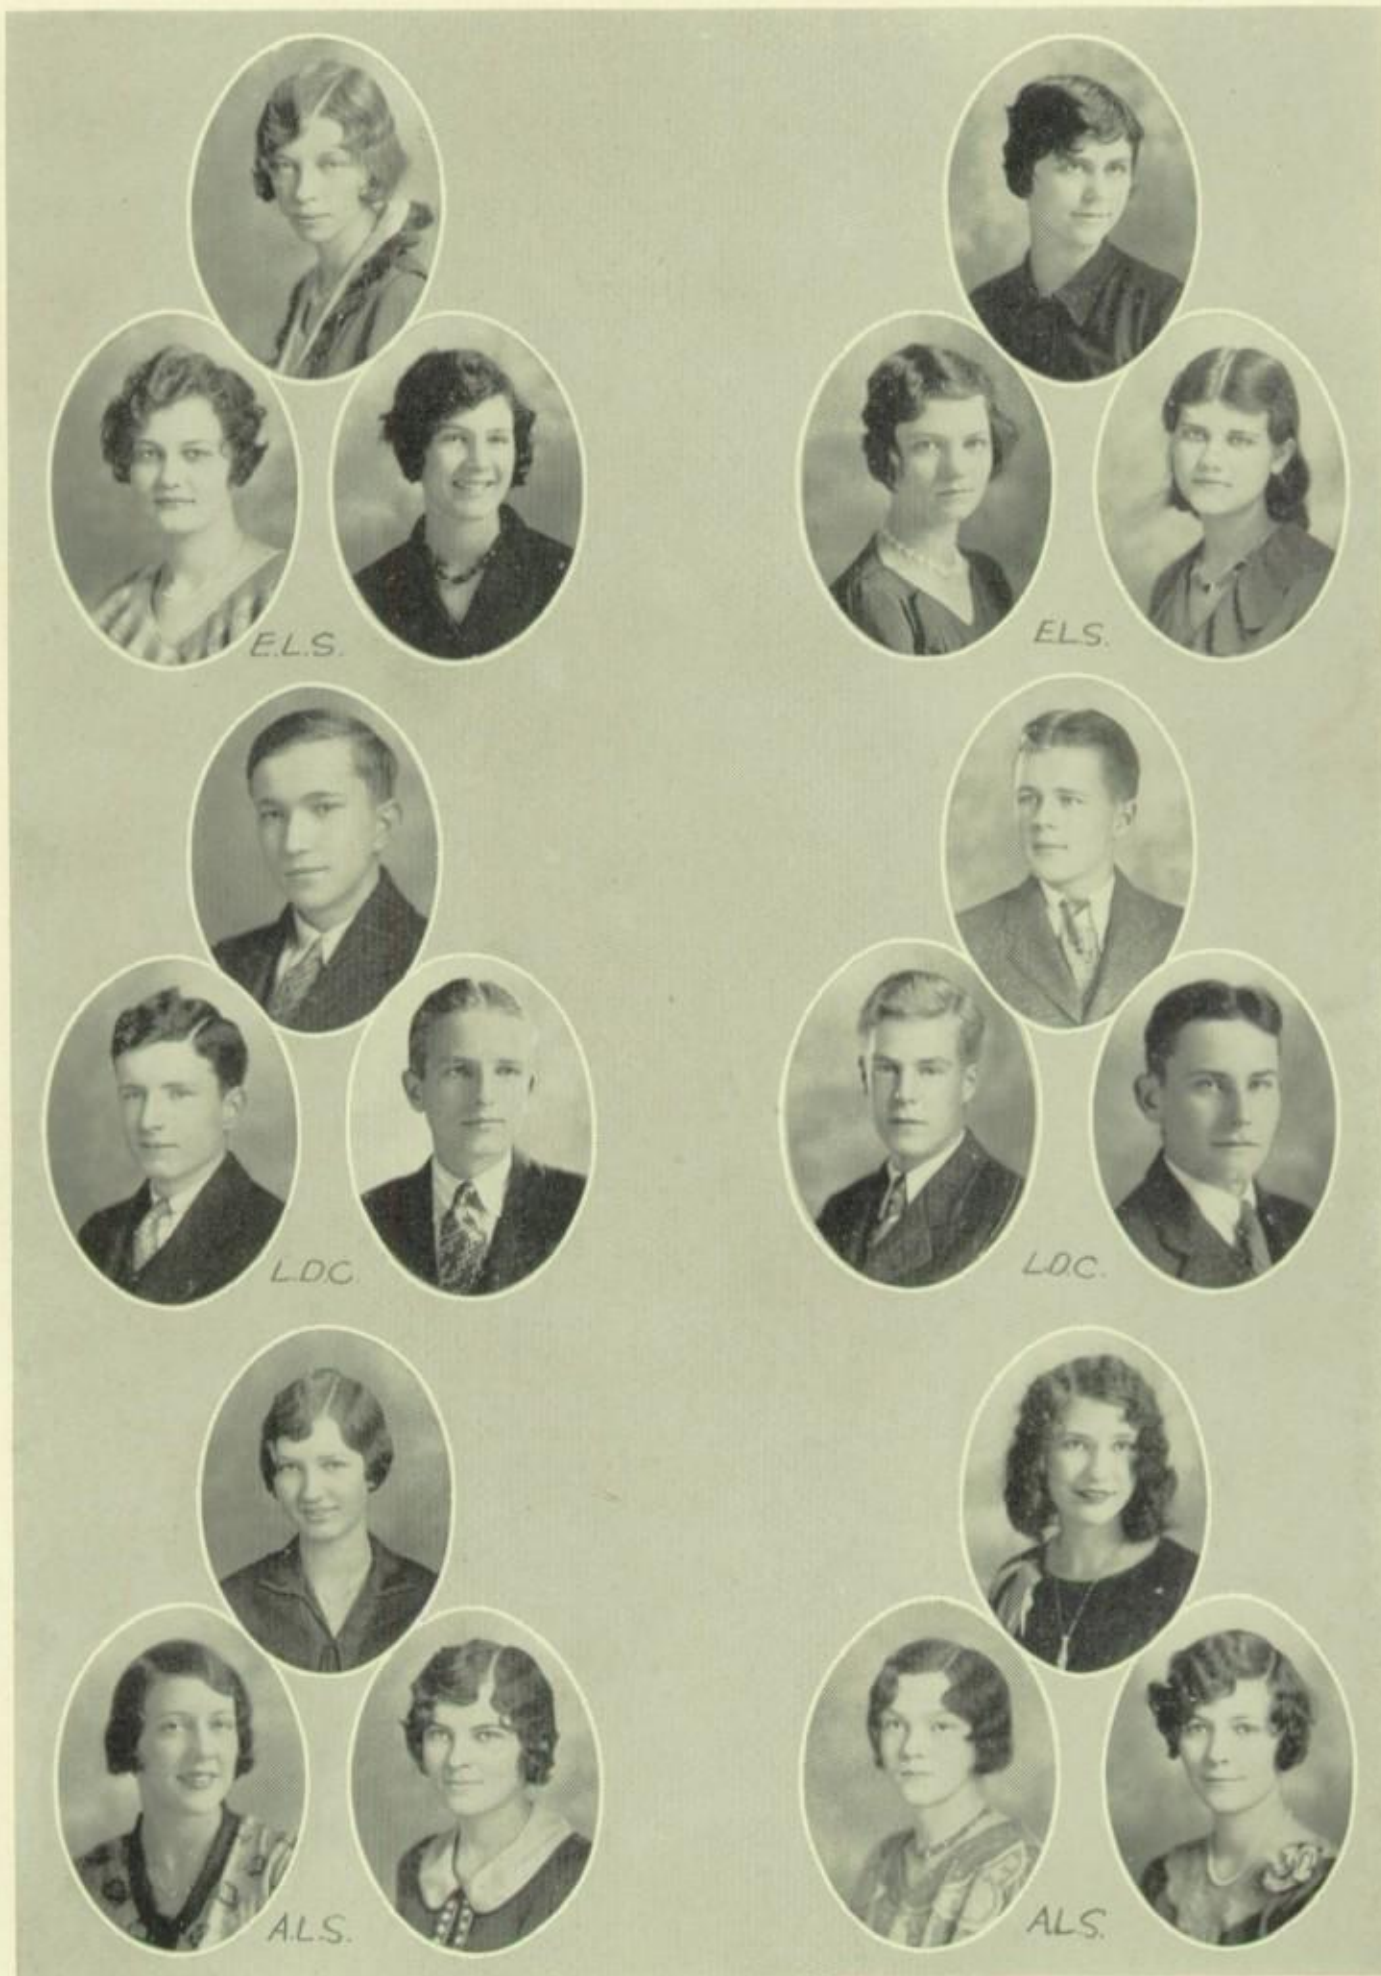

Frances Hazen and Frank Potter represented Galesburg High School in the Girls' and Boys' Big Nine Declamation Contests this year.

On November 1, Frances went to Geneseo, where she presented "A Minuet" for her reading. Rock Island received first place with the reading, "Humoresque"; Moline, second with "Romance"; and Kewanee, third with "The Eyes of the Blind".

The Boys' Contest was held in Moline on December 6. Frank gave as his reading, "The Way of the Transgressor". Geneseo placed first, with "Number Six"; Rock Island, second with "The Last Word"; and Moline, third with "The Valiant".

Frank also represented the school in the Big Nine Extempore Contest which was held in Monmouth on April 25. Frank, speaking on Prohibition, received fifth place. Monmouth placed first; Moline, second and Rock Island, third.

Both Frances and Frank were given fifth place in their respective contests. They are seniors and will be greatly missed next year.

GIRLS' SCIENCE CLUB DEBATE CHAMPIONS

Final Debates

The question for debate this year was: Resolved, That the five day working week should be adopted by all industries.

The Girls' Science Club won the Triple Debate by defeating the Franklin Debating Club and the Boys' Science Club.

The Triangular Debaters were the Elizabethan Literary Society, the Analotos Literary Society, and the Lincoln Debating Club. The boys disproved the saying that girls talk faster than boys as the "Windjammers" were victorious in this debate.

The laurels in the Tri-T Debate were captured by the Prokoramas. The Laurian Literary Society, and the Twentieth Century Literary Society were the other members of this group.

The Girls' Science Club, the Prokoramas and the Lincolns were left to compete for the championship.

The Prokorama negative won from the Lincoln affirmative.

The Girls' Science negative defeated the Prokorama affirmative.

The decision now hinged on the outcome of the debate between the Girls' Science affirmative and the Lincoln negative. The girls finally won, although by a very small percentage.

Thus the Girls' Science Club were again crowned as debate champions.

This year fifty-four students competed in club debates. Much talent remains for the forensic art in years to come.

Big Nine Debate

The Galesburg Big Nine Debate teams placed third this year in the annual Big Nine Debate conference.

The question debated was: Resolved, that the United States should cease to protect by force of arms private capital invested in foreign lands except after a formal declaration of war.

The affirmative team composed of Elizabeth Oakes, Ethel Margaret Gillmor, Joe Strasburger, leader, with Joe Morgan as alternate, motored to Monmouth, where they met the Monmouth negative team and defeated it by a percentage of 90-85.

Professor E. C. Dennis of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, was the critic judge.

The Galesburg negative team, composed of Billy Richardson, Helen Landon, and Bob Miller, leader, with Gail Masters as alternate, met the Canton affirmative team, in our school auditorium, and defeated the Canton debaters by a percentage score of 85-84.

Professor Oliver of North Central College at Naperville, acted as critic judge here.

Having won the semi-finals in our district, Galesburg was qualified to enter the finals of the Big 9 Contest.

In the finals our affirmative team met Rock Island's negative team in Beecher Chapel and was defeated by a percentage of 93-90.

Our negative team journeyed to Princeton and was defeated by Princeton's affirmative by a percentage score of 90-85.

Thus Rock Island placed first in the Big Nine, Princeton placed second, and Galesburg, third.

The Critic judge for all of the Big 9 Debate finals was Professor I. G. Bost of the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Members of this year's Big 9 Debate Board were Elizabeth Oakes, Ethel Margaret Gillmor, Joe Strasburger, Billie Richardson, Helen Landon, Bob Miller, Joe Morgan, Gail Masters, Rose Eleanor Brittain, Russell Johnson, and Fred Clark.

This board worked very hard, and it is due largely to the interest shown by the board and the hard work of Mr. E. E. Jennings and Mr. Harry M. Garst, that our team had such a successful season.

With the number of juniors who will remain next year, Galesburg should repeat its triumphs of last year and win the Big 9 Championship.

The Chorus

The chorus classes of 1930 under the direction of Miss Ross have had a very successful year. The Chorus, which met twice each week, was divided into four groups, three girls' classes and a mixed class.

Sixteen girls from the seventh period class gave a program for the Western Division Illinois State Teachers' Association. The seventh period class gave a pep assembly before the Rock Island football game and a playlet was given by Dorothy Pitman, Dorothy Anderson, Frank Potter, and Russell Johnson. An assembly program was given by the chorus classes in the fall and the mixed chorus and the seventh period class entertained the Parent-Teachers' Association. Pauline Torley, Jean Barber, Irma Jean Wickersham, Dorothy Anderson, Erma Gibbs, Helen Billings, Marjorie Tuttle, Marian Tingey, and Louise Clay sang carols in the Christmas assembly. The Professional Business Women's Club, which met at the Elks Club were entertained by Marian Tingey, Reba Townsend and Jean Barber.

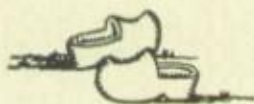

Our accompanists, Lucille Hogan, Gail Masters and Muriel Snell, added much to the success of the chorus classes.

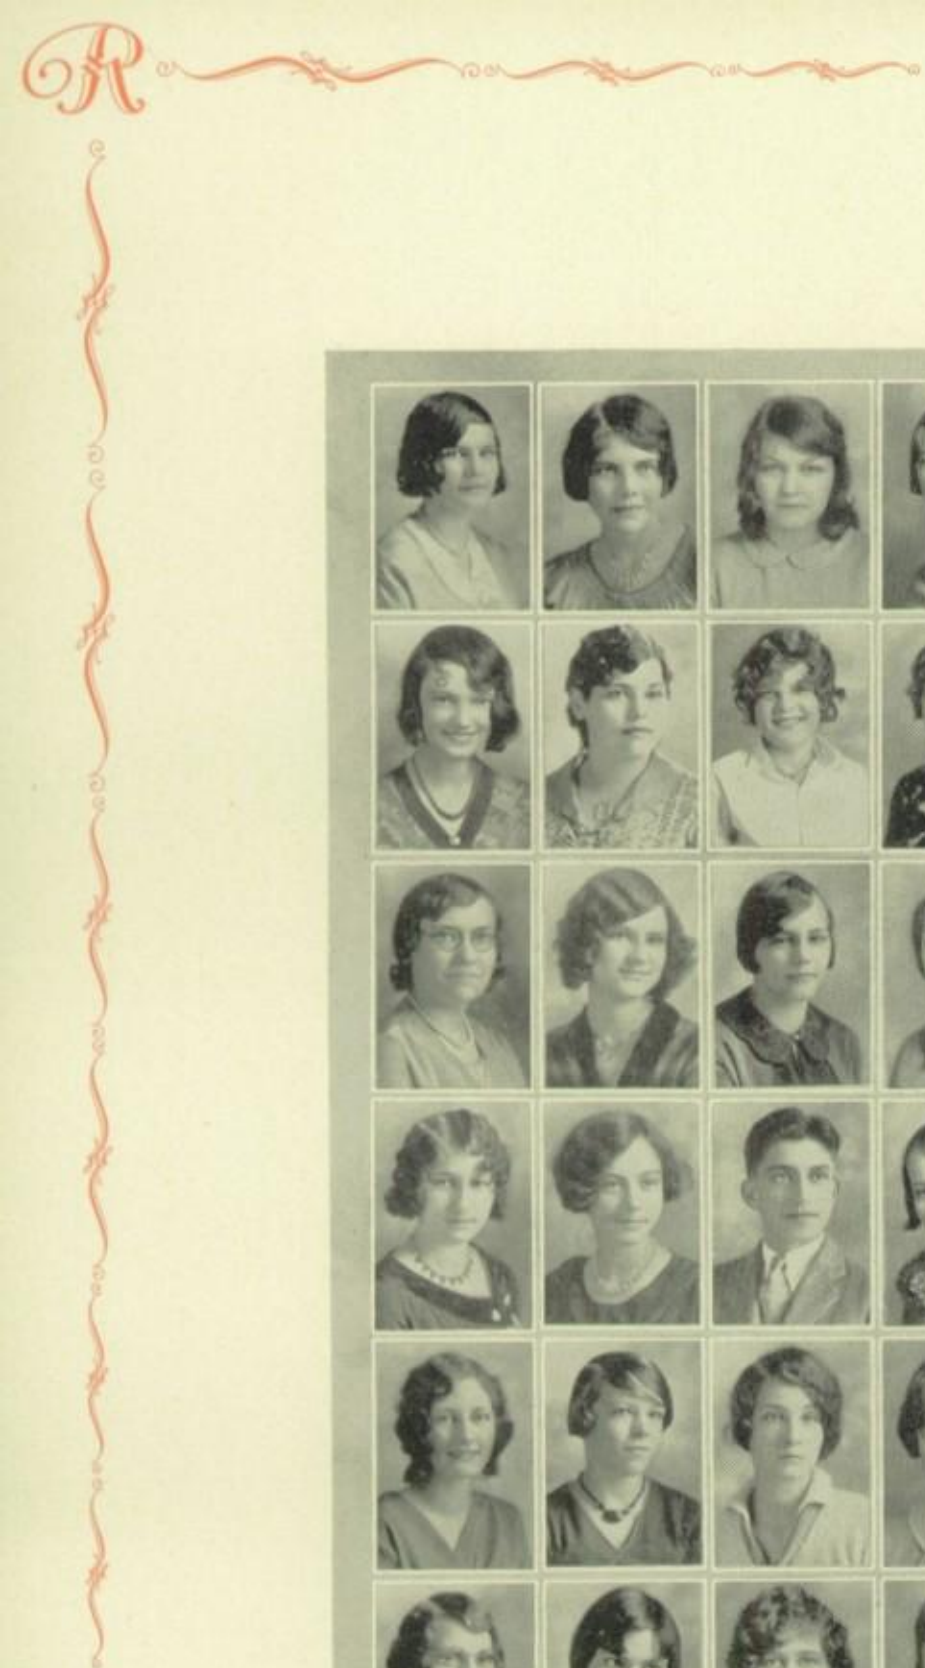

The Operetta "Tulip Time" was given by members of the chorus classes. The cast is as follows:

Hans	Richard Larson
Aunt Anna.....	Dolores Yahn
Katinka	Bryonia Armstrong
Hendrick Van Ooster.....	John Bohan
Christina	Darlene Retherford
McSpindle	Milton Keach
Ned Baxter.....	Russell Johnson
Dick Warren.....	Dana Watts
Dutch Villagers (Chorus).....	Members of Chorus Classes
American Students (Chorus).....	Members of Chorus Classes

Holland is enjoying a holiday, when a party of American tourists under the leadership of McSpindle come to study tulip culture. Christina and Katinka are admired by Ned and Dick. Word is received that a thief has been stealing prize tulips and a reward has been offered for his capture. McSpindle is persuaded to dress to represent the thief and is arrested. Ned and Dick promote their friendships with Christina and Katinka, and learn that some supposedly worthless stock of Christina's is of immense value. The truth is revealed to Christina and the Burgomaster's attempt to grow rich at her expense is stopped.

Aunt Anna reveals the innocence of McSpindle and he declares his affection for her and there is a prospect for a triple wedding.

Galesburg High School Band

Under the supervision of Mr. Landon the Galesburg High School band has completed another succesful year. The talent displayed at the annual concert was proof of this. This band concert was held on March 21 in the Presbyterian Church.

The band also appeared at all high school games and activities and assisted in the Armistice and Memorial day programs. Various assemblies during the year used the band to furnish the necessary music.

Mr. Landon's new system of home practice greatly increased each member's ability and brought about some remarkable results.

It is to Mr. Landon that the credit of this successful year should go, and each member of the student body should be proud of our band.

Galesburg High School Orchestra

The Galesburg High School Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Roy Landon, has just completed one of its most successful years. This success can be measured perhaps, best of all, in the increased musical ability and progress that each student has made under the personal direction that he received.

The Orchestra added greatly to our enjoyment of the plays and assemblies presented here in high school, and the members never failed to respond when called upon. It also played for the commencement exercises. In addition to this the annual concert was presented April 25, in the Presbyterian Church, before an unusually large audience.

It is our sincere wish that the orchestra may continue to prosper in the future as it has this year.

The 1930 Budget Staff

The success of the Budget of 1929-1930 was largely due to Louise Marie Nelson, Editor-in-Chief, and Rollin B. Laughner, Jr., Business Manager. The patience, helpfulness, and good will of the advisors, Miss Nickel and Mr. Damberg, contributed in a large measure to the progress of the paper.

Two important innovations were made this year: An editorial board was created to distribute more evenly the work and responsibility; the paper was put on a basis whereby the size of the paper was determined by the circulation and amount of advertising.

The staff tried to present an evenly balanced paper containing up-to-date and interesting news material. For variety several special editions were published including a senior and a literary edition, and the holiday issues. Perhaps the staff's greatest object was to focus publicity upon things worthy of student approval, maintaining at all times an impartial and tolerant attitude. On February 28, the organization presented an assembly, "Headlines", written by Rollin Laughner.

In short the staff has tried to live up to its slogan of "Co-operation—Sportsmanship—Information."

The Reflector Staff of 1929-30

The REFLECTOR Staff of 1929-1930 tried to publish an annual which would differ noticeably from the books of other years. Through the efforts of the Staff the editor and business manager were able to plan and execute a book which reviewed the school year in a logical order, beginning with the school and the underclassmen and continuing through the activities in which a student engages before he becomes a worthwhile senior.

Dale Rowe was Assistant Business Manager; Gordon Folger, Mechanical Editor; Joe Morgan, Athletic Editor; William Tucker and Billie Richardson, Photograph Editors; Harry Stephenson, Feature Editor; Ursula Jaynes, Typist; Elizabeth Oakes, Frances Hazen, Ramona Dunn, and Leslie Fortman, Literary Editors.

Miss Stickle, Mr. Damberg, and Miss Atherton were the faculty advisors who helped us with their experience and advice.

Many new ideas were worked out this year such as a two color scheme throughout the book, an enlarged feature section, a snap page for each class, and the use of the club insignia on the club pages.

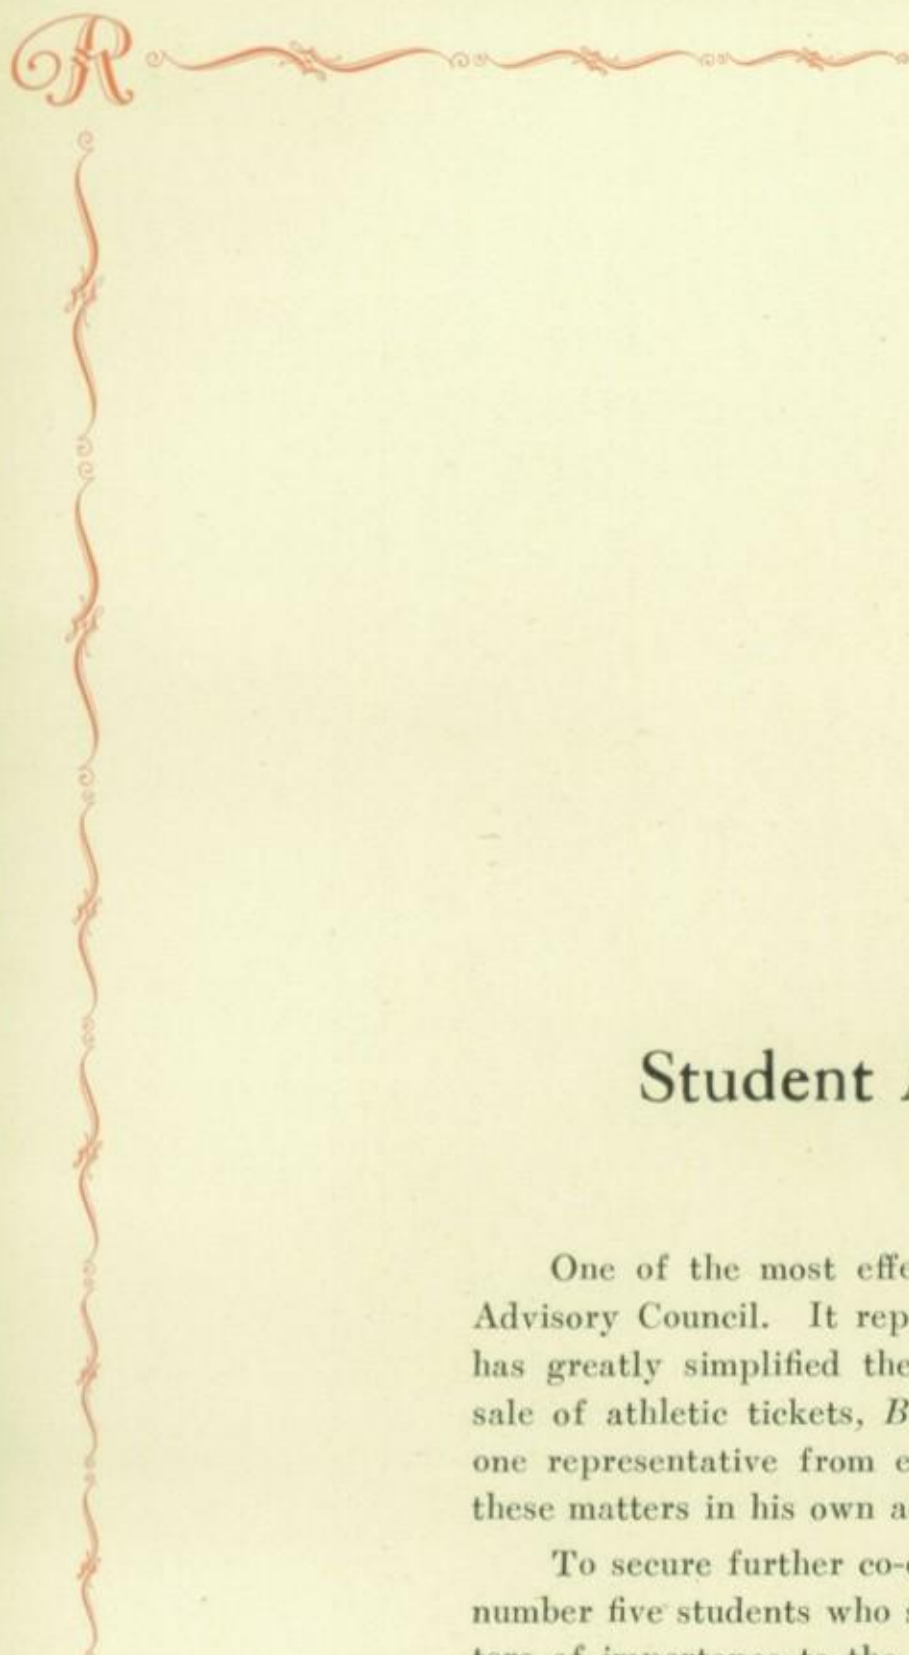

Through the tragic death of William Tucker, the staff lost one of its most likeable and valuable members.

If this book brings back warm memories of the year of 1929-1930 long after the events occurred it will truly be a REFLECTOR of Galesburgh High School.

Student Advisory Council

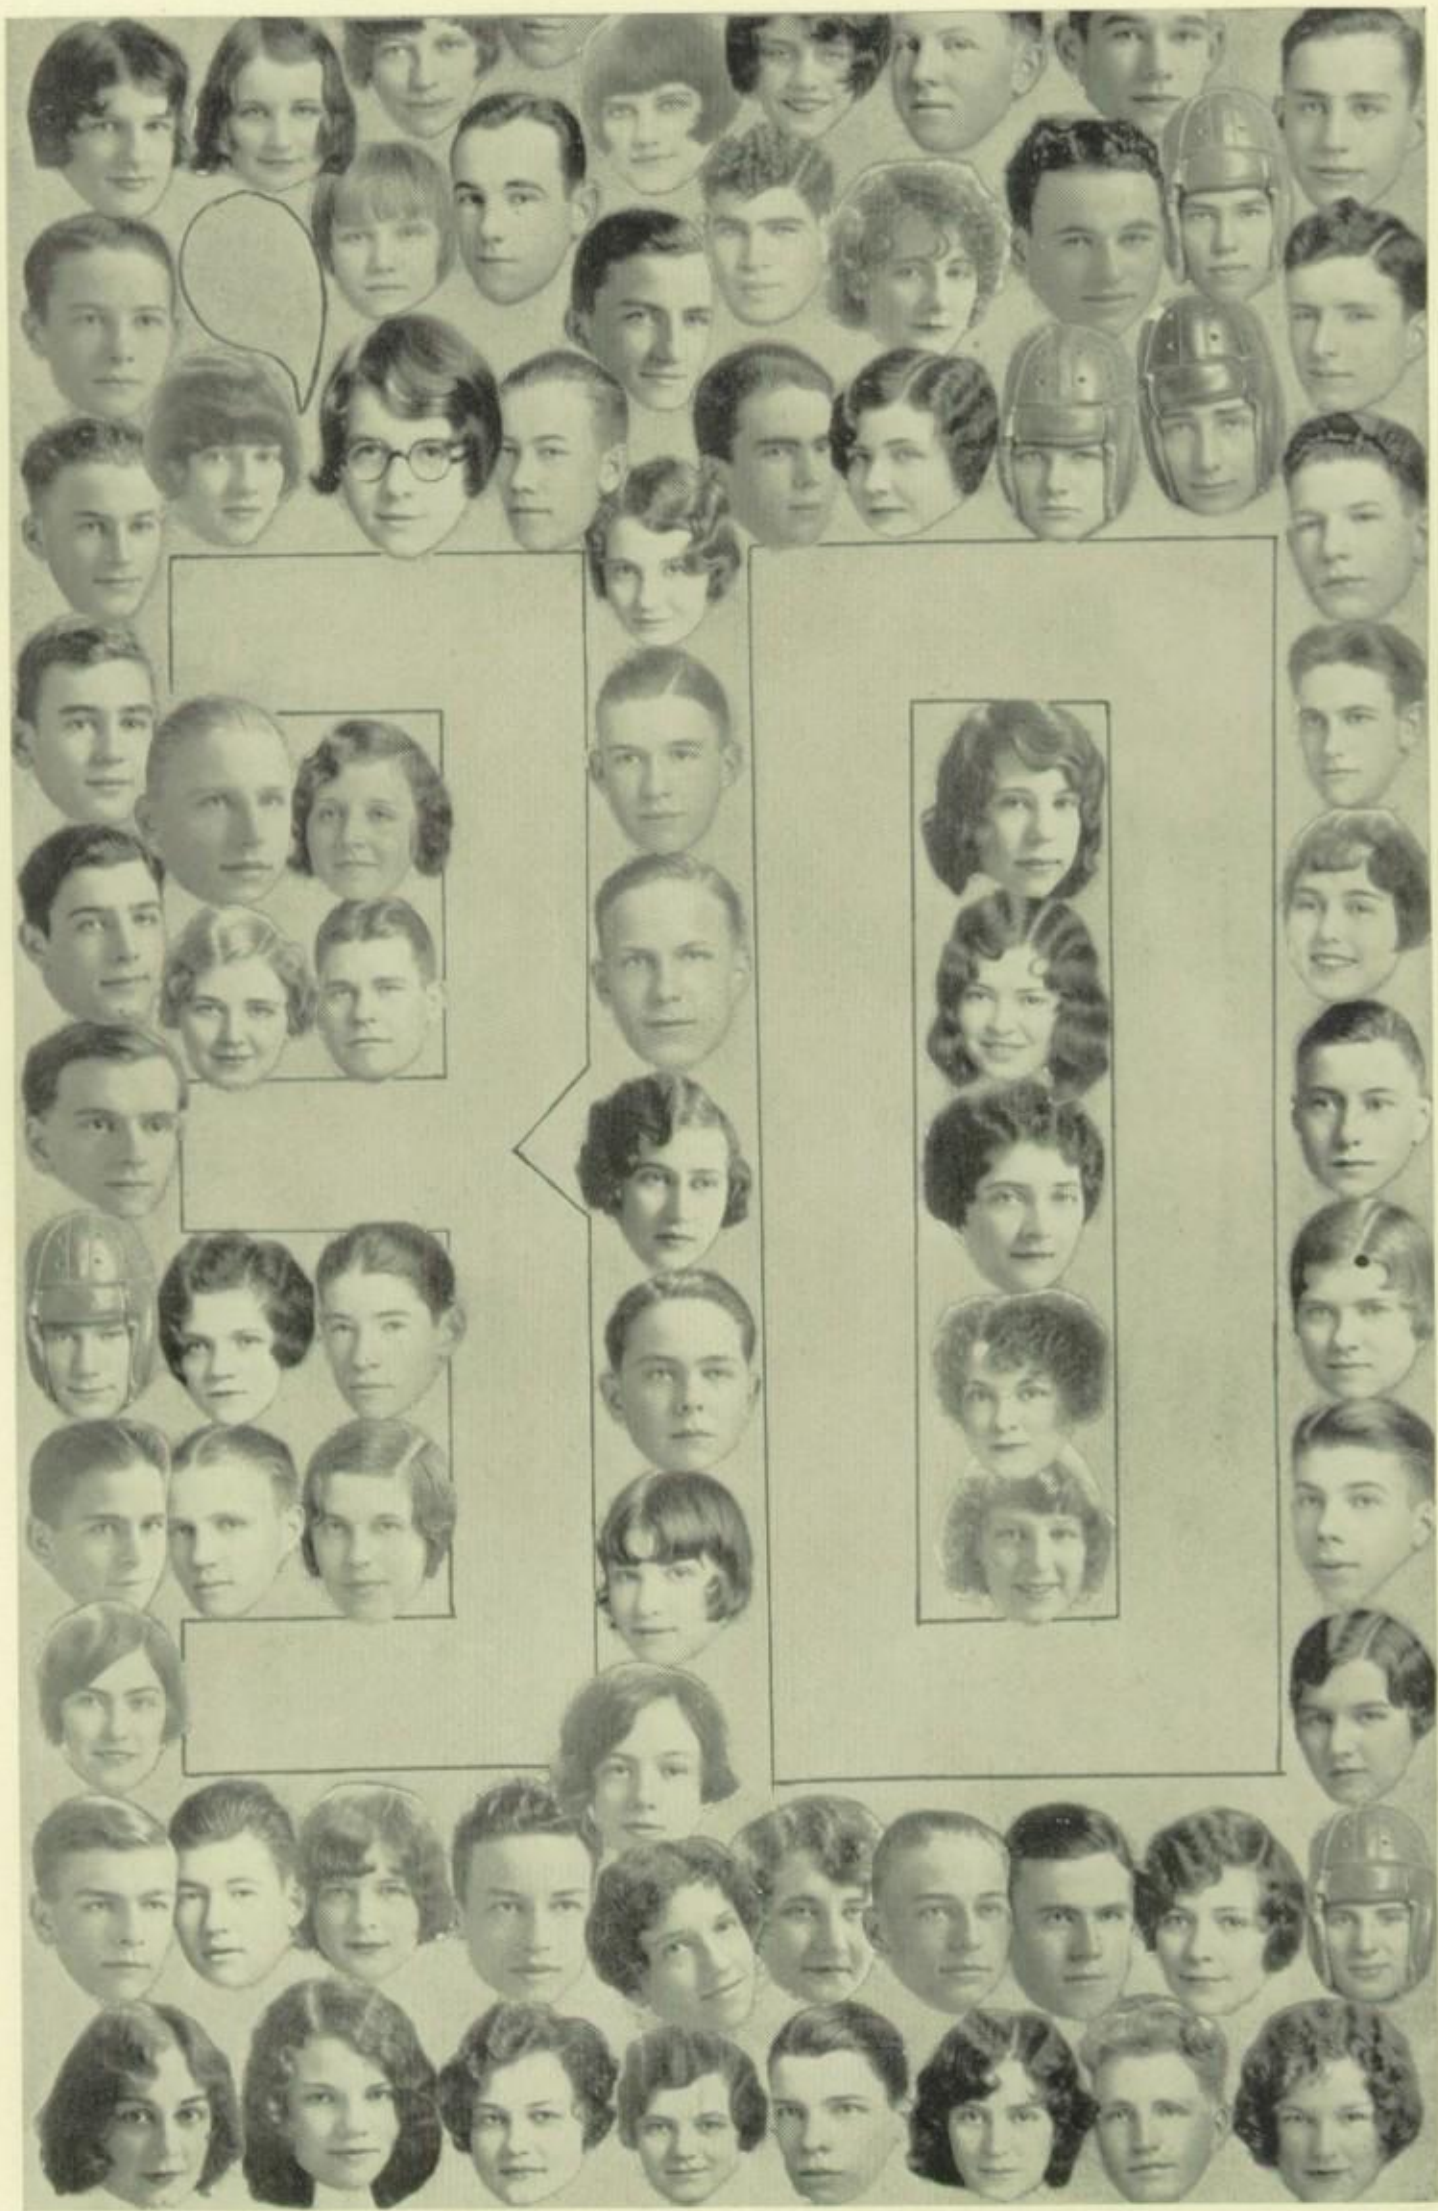

Founded 1925

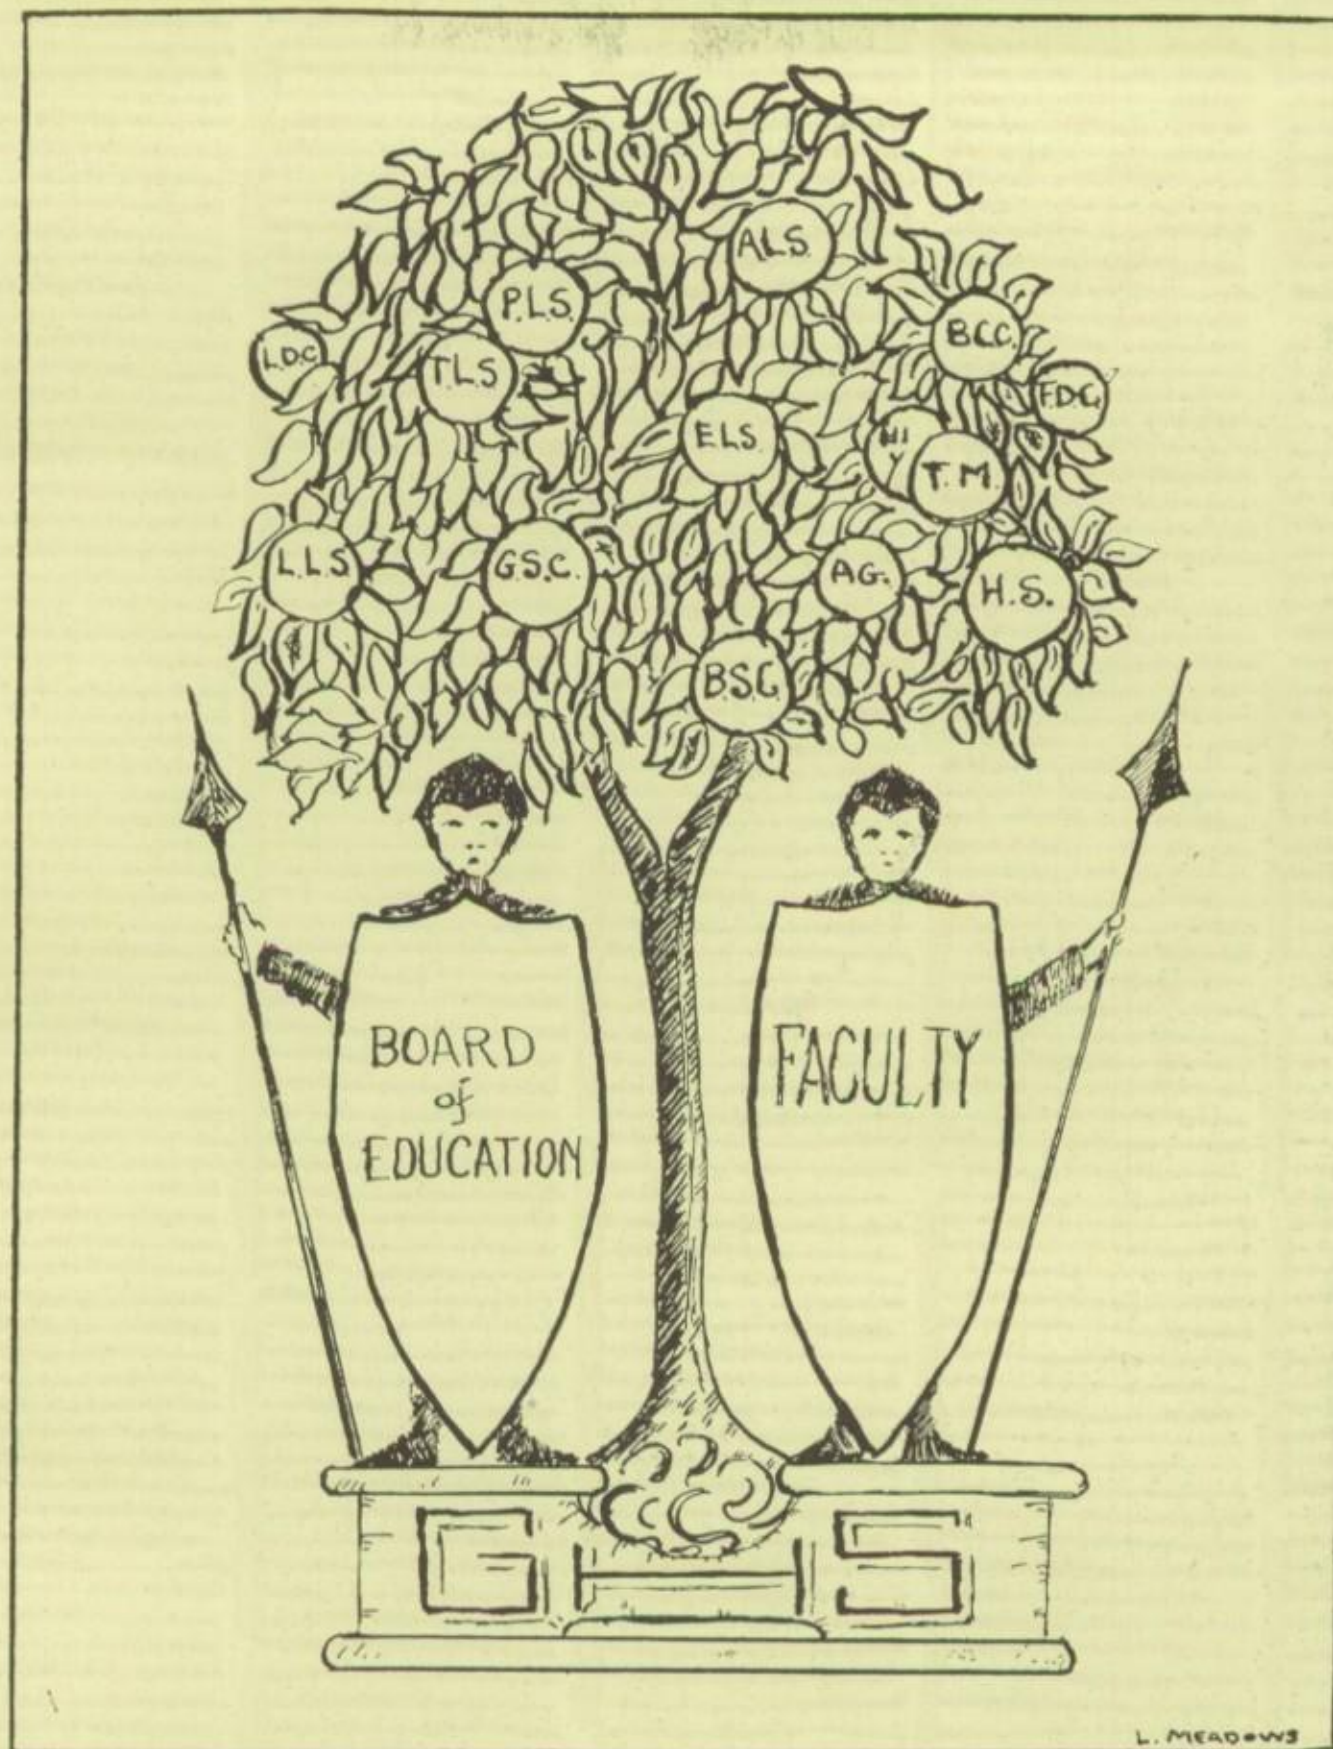

One of the most effective organizations in the school is the Advisory Council. It represents the student body as a whole. It has greatly simplified the management of the campaigns for the sale of athletic tickets, Budgets and REFLECTORS. It consists of one representative from each advisory, each member attending to these matters in his own advisory.

To secure further co-operation, the group elected from its own number five students who should discuss with the faculty some matters of importance to the student body. These five were: Louise Bower, senior; John Bohan, junior; Robert Twyman, sophomore; Luke Laughner, freshman; Alice Burrell, eighth grade.

At the beginning of the year the Lincoln Debating Club brought Mr. Success in to custody in an attempt to prove him guilty of being in their ranks.

As first evidence the debaters, Billie Richardson, Fred Clark, John Bohan, Joe Morgan, Boyd Harris, and Alexander Finley, clashed with and out-argued the An-nies and Lizzies, winning the triangular debate, to almost thoroughly convince the jury.

Rising to unknown heights because of their debating talent, the Convincors re-sorted to a different style of evidence in the form of their annual fall party which was a great asset to their cause. The attorneys struck strong opposition on the grid-iron and were defeated by the Science 12 to 6. However, they retaliated to hold the annual banquet on Lincoln's birthday at the Galesburg Club, where a fine ex-ample of Lincoln spirit was shown. The L. D. C. cage forces counter-balanced the evidence compiled against them in football by downing the Science in the annual Lincoln-Science cage duel, 13 to 12. In order to key the Silver and Gold varsity to another district tournament the Lawyers displayed their dramatic talent to an out-standing degree of success by presenting the customary Lincoln pre-tourney assembly.

To further prove their case the Lincoln Debaters maintained one of the highest scholarship records ever attained in the history of the organization and were sur-passed only by the Franklins who won by a small per cent. For the first time the club also sponsored a second debate team which was victorious in its conflicts. The junior debaters were: Herbert Miller, Hugh Garver, Gail Meadows, James Parsons, Gust Nichols, and Andrew Lindstrum, who further pleaded the purpose of the Lin-coln mission.

Thus the trial ended and another history making episode in the life of the Lin-coln Debating Club has passed. The jury adjourned, and the verdict was returned, "GUILTY".

By dint of harde labour and the burning of the candle at layte night the other clubs defeated them in the art of debating only after they hade fought a goode fight.

A. L. S. Showboat

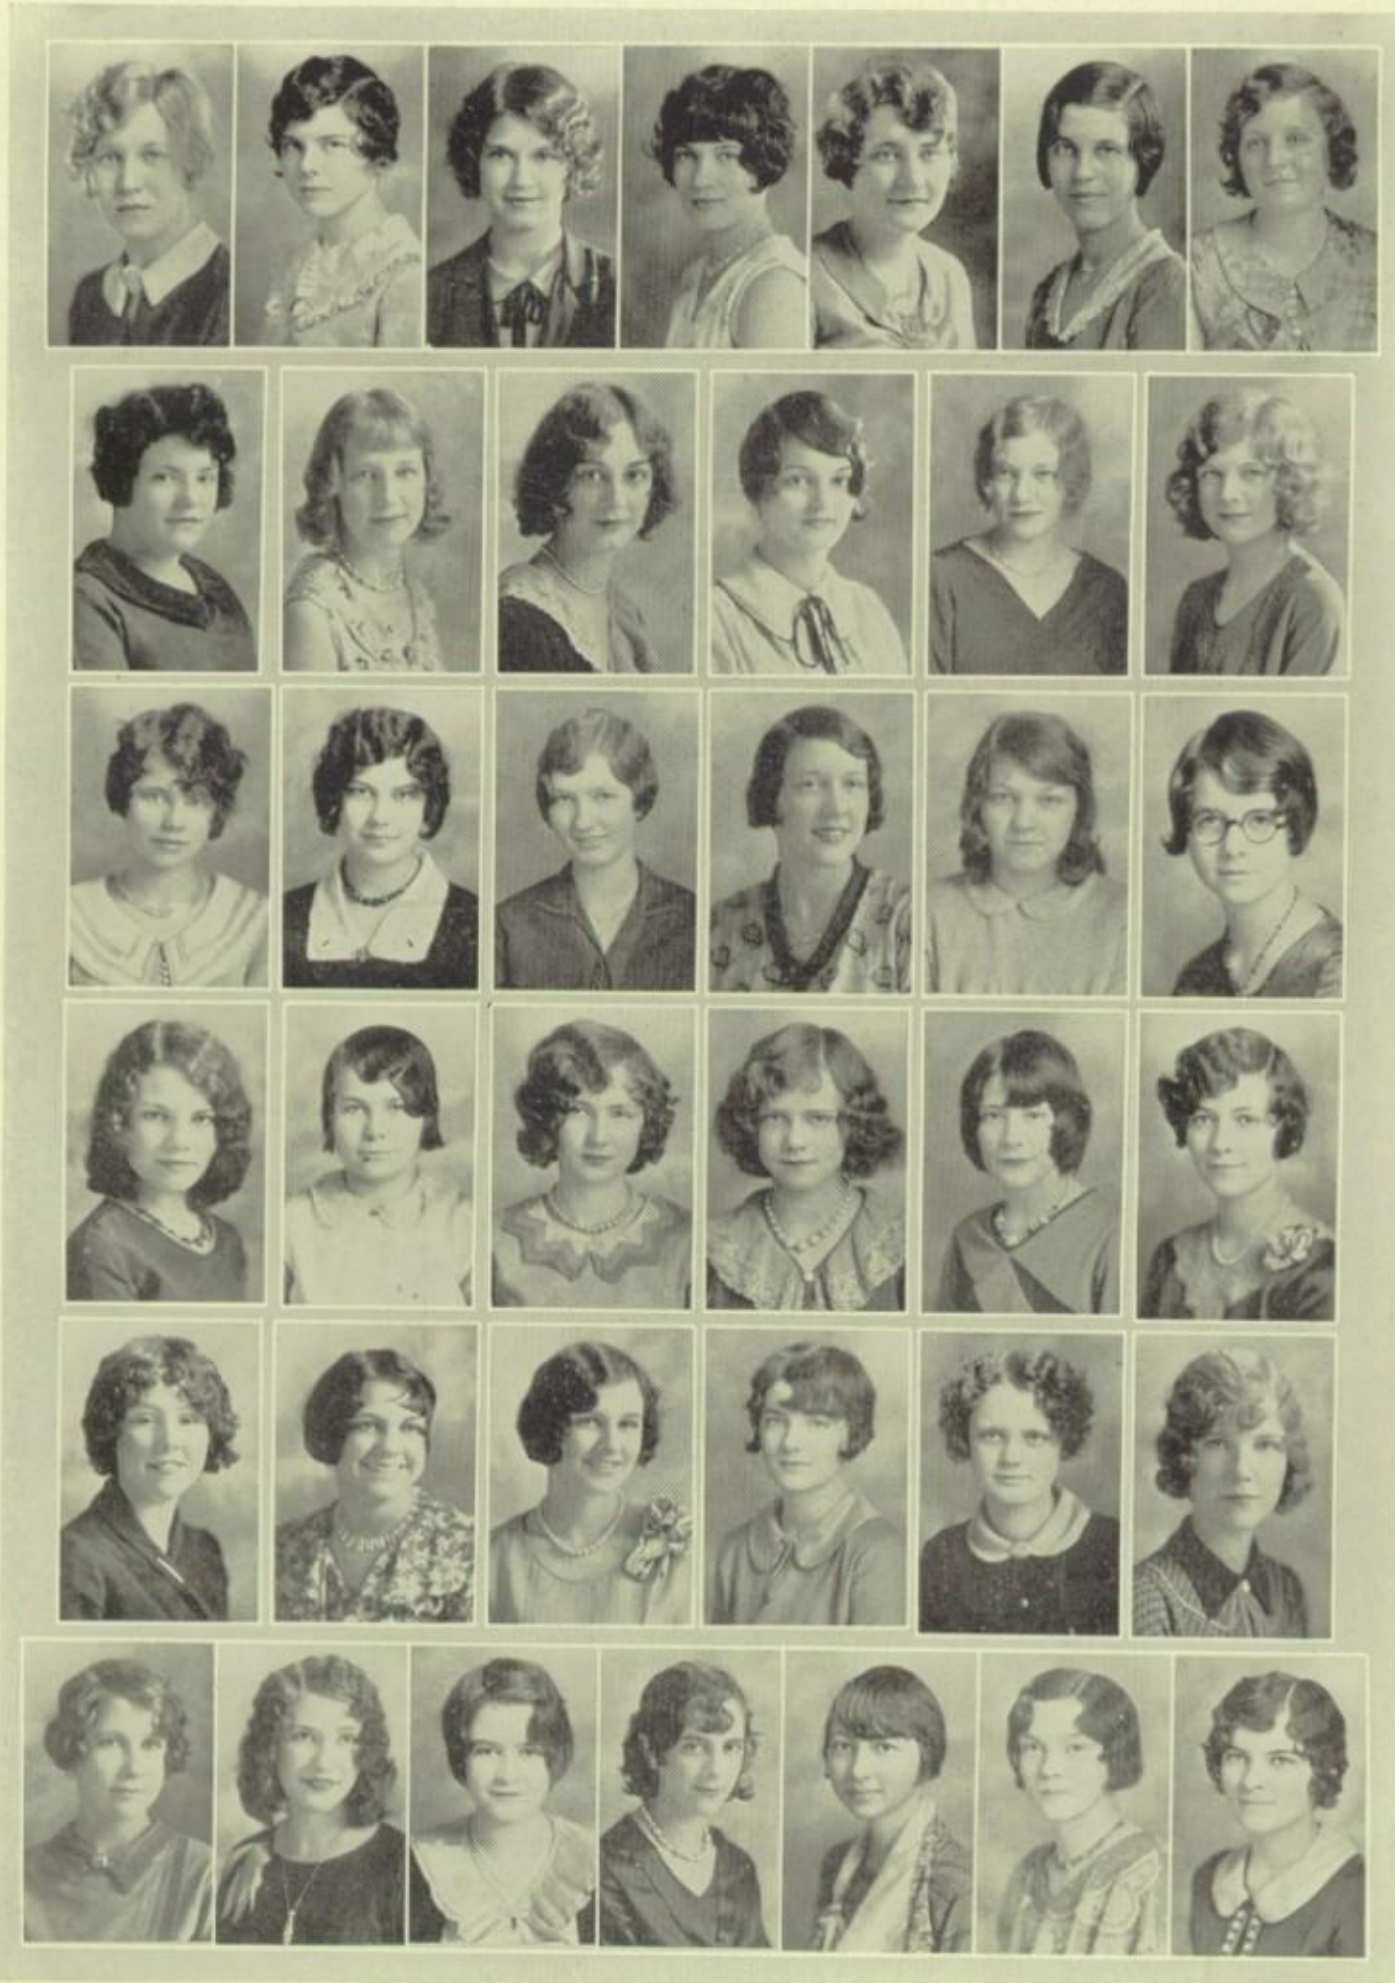

The A. L. S. Showboat docked for the year at the Galesburg High School. Its first event was to sojourn to Lake Bracken, at which place a wiener roast was held for the initiation of the new passengers. The first public presentation made was a pep assembly which preceded the Moline game. The assembly was given in the form of acts portrayed by a book. Then the boat transferred to the Girls' Gym for the purpose of holding the fall party. The entertaining orchestra was none other than Marie's Blue Aces. In the debate work for the year the A. L. S. Showboat did its best.

The A. L. S. Showboat next was guided to the Girls' Gym, and there took place the Annual Annie Jubilee, which was a great success. In honor of our Mothers, the emerald and golden ship reversed its course and its crew provided for a mothers' tea. Our mothers presented their passports and boarded our good ship. On deck there followed the most delightful of programs.

A Freshman Reception was given for those from whom our passengers were chosen for the coming year. Next, we find that the A. L. S. Showboat prepared for one most glorious day, which took place in the Big Study Hall. This affair was presented as the Annual Senior Assembly. The center of attraction was a fortune teller, who prophesied the future of our Annie Seniors.

Also, our sturdy Showboat made an appearance at the Spring Party. The port, at which the A. L. S. Showboat drew up its anchor, was at the Senior Banquet, on that sad day of the departure of our beloved Senior passengers. Their round trip ended with this affair, and they left our Showboat to sail upon other seas.

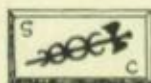

Thus, the A. L. S. Showboat journeyed onward to return in the fall of another school year.

Consulting Engineer—MR. GARST

B. S. C. Experiments

Our first business was to select a new Consulting Engineer to take the place of Mr. Volk. Mr. Garst, scientist and mathematician, was chosen.

Our first experiment was with the Lincolns in football. It was successful since we beat them 12 to 6.

The Triple debate was next. The negative team lost 2-1 and the affirmative team won 2-1. The Girl Scientists were the best experimenters.

Major Martindale, of Yellowstone National Park, was our lecturer November 27. He gave us a very interesting talk on the habits of bears as seen by his personal observation and study.

We mixed decorations, a dance, a good orchestra, and the Girls' gym. The precipitate was a wonderful time at our fall party.

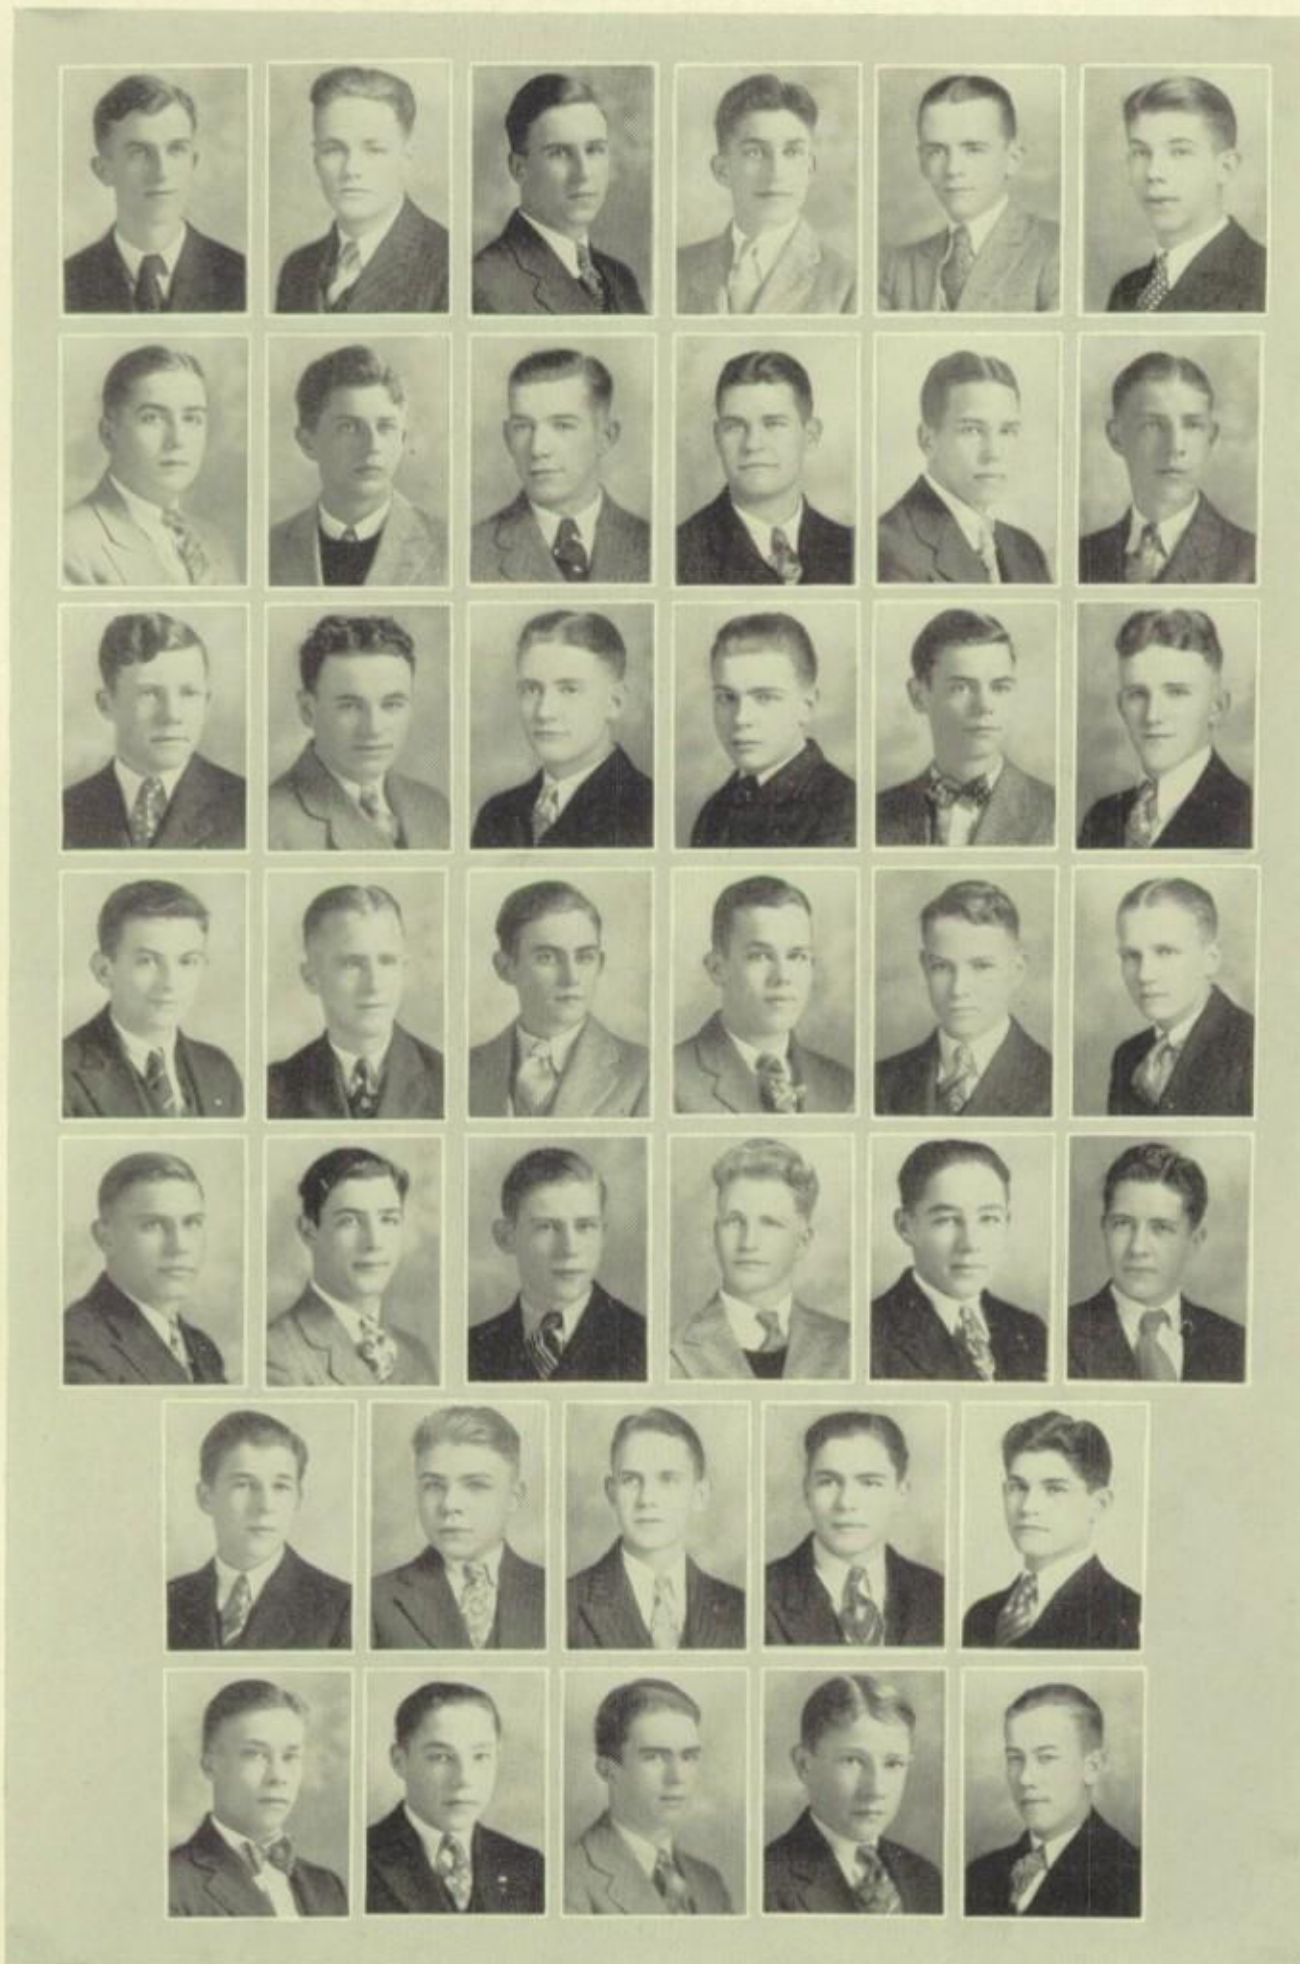

The Lincolns queered one of our experiments by defeating us in basketball 13 to 12.

On February 25, at the Galesburg Club, by combining our Founders' Day Banquet, a farewell for the seniors, and Mr. Van Buskirk as speaker, we used Einstein's Theory of Relativity to show the relation between a boy's stomach and a good feed.

We presented an assembly on May first and second which was different. As predicted, the results were well received.

Our spring party had plenty of snap. Everyone enjoyed himself.

As seen by our experiments and the results, this year has been one of the most successful since our beginning.

G. S. C. Library

In the fall of 1929, the Girls' Science Club library opened another successful era of its existence with Miss Dollie Smith as head librarian. Although there was a loss of several rare old editions the previous spring with the event of graduation, the library was fortunate in securing more than that number of new volumes, up-to-date and interesting.

The first outstanding addition to the library was a collection of books on "Forensic Activities and How to be Champions". These books were written by Elizabeth Oakes, Louise Marie Nelson, Ursula Jaynes, Thelma James, Mabel Pratt and Evelyn Granfield. This was the second year that the library had received such a collection though the authors varied a bit these two years.

Books of an unequalled volume called "Success Socially" were added at various times during the year. The largest book in this collection was called "Annual Parties" and contained clever and interesting accounts of dancing parties held in the fall and spring. These books added spice and interest to the library. The account of the spring affair was called "Animal Crackers" since a circus was the prevailing theme of the event.

Outstanding accounts of two E. L. S.—G. S. C. parties were given in "Friendship". "Mother Machree" was a simple sonnet which was dedicated to the mothers by the girls of the organization in May.

"To Have or Not To Have" was added late in the year. This book was dedicated to prospective members of the organization, and was in the form of a play which took place at Lake Bracken with the Girls' Science Club members and advisor and their guests as the outstanding characters.

Books on "Interesting Club Programs—How to Have Them", written by the whole club, were presented to the library several times in the year. These proved to be helpful to the club.

Realizing that the library must have a cleaning out and a sifting out of old books once again to make way for the new editions, a banquet was served in honor of the old books. All of the books were present and a goodly number of editions that had been culled out before.

At this time the library was closed for the summer months, after having had eight months of successful work and play. It will open again in the fall of 1930, with a new corps of librarians and many new volumes.

P. L. S. Pleasure Pullman

The P. L. S. Pullman left on September 12, 1929, for a pleasure trip including many stops and interesting little side trips.

In November we had a most interesting and successful venture when we stopped at Debate Station. We came out next best in this little triangular engagement, thanks to our debaters.

About this time we decided to switch crews in order to share responsibility. That done, we all hopped on board again and rode to Mid-Winter Date Party. Here we stopped and bought new dresses for the Victrola party held January 10, in the girls' gym. The small imp "Good-Time" was a visitor whom we certainly enjoyed.

Here again we changed crews so that one crew wouldn't tire out and in order that they, too, might enjoy the trip.

The Pullman then started out for Benefit Assembly Station with everyone on board working hard on their parts. We reached there February 20, staying over until the 21st for the purpose of letting both upper and lower form get an idea of what it was to put up with "PATSY", our Irish maid, every day.

In March, the mothers of the travelers met them and a most delightful reunion took place. There were games, a program, and dancing. Many mothers whispered to us, "We had a wonderful time."

On May 28 the train stopped to allow all fellow-members and alumnae enjoy a banquet. It was a glorious affair but it was a sad time, too, as now we began to realize that our trip of '30, was about over.

Aboard again! On our way to another of those delightful spring parties. The gym was highly decorated on May 30—music, punch, dancing, and a good time.

We all wish it could go on forever—this P. L. S. Pleasure Pullman trip, yet all good things must end. But here's good luck to next year's trip!

Farm relief doesn't seem to mean so much to the farm raised boys who attend G. H. S. for instead of trying to be relieved of all that concerns the farm, their interest is increasing. The evidence is the almost doubled enrollment in the Agriculture courses this year. From this increase in students of agriculture came many new club members.

The club again sponsored the livestock and grain judging teams by paying their expenses to the state judging contest at Urbana. Among the thousand and more boys who competed there were nine boys from G. H. S. Ray Moberg was awarded first in judging Ayrshire cattle. The sight-seeing tour of the University buildings and grounds furnished ample compensation for those who drove over in an undrivable Ford or push-mobile. At the sectional judging contest Galesburg placed second.

Letters were presented to the members of the judging team at the Agriculture Club's annual Father and Son Banquet. The following boys received letters: Ray Moberg, Arthur Ratcliffe, Cecil Coezatt, Roger Smith, Lewis Ballew, Robert Alexander, Harold Wilson, Edwin Swanson, David Reed, Lee Britt, Russell Hallberg, and LeRoy Nelson.

Vaccination prevented the pay assembly which was to have been given by the Club as well as smallpox when it disabled several members of the cast.

L. L. S. Events

The Laurians began a very successful year by inducting their new sister Laurians at a wiener roast at Lincoln Park. A feast was enjoyed and the initiates performed many stunts much to the enjoyment of their dignified (?) sisters. Later in the evening an Orpheum Party was enjoyed by some.

Next the Laurians ventured out into the huge battlefield in which debates were held. Our debaters labored diligently and much praise is due to them.

Soon after the battle there was rejoicing in the form of a date party held in connection with the T. L. S. girls on November 16, which proved a very delightful event. Balloon and Tag Dances were features. Music was furnished by Marie's Blue Aces. All who were present termed it a delightful and most ideal party.

Then around Christmas time, we Laurians entertained the Kindergarten Kiddies at a party in the Recreation Rooms. A huge decorated tree was the main attraction. Popcorn, Santa Clauses, apples, candy, and gifts helped to make the children happy. Games and diversions of all sorts were enjoyed, and Mrs. Santa arrived and distributed the gifts.

The Laurians entertained their Mothers at a party on February 21. A delightful program was furnished and at the conclusion of the evening refreshments were served and roses were given to the Mothers.

Our project, a set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, is one which we hope will be of much benefit to the members of the student body, for many years to come.

The date party held later in the spring will ever remain in the memory of each Laurian senior as the most joyful party in all her high school life.

A Senior Banquet held at the club was a lovely one, honoring our seniors who were Maxine McGowan, Martha Case, and Mary Dale Shaw. Also at this time our debators were honored by tokens to those who so loyally supported the Laurians.

Extra! Extra! Big Headliner!

All about the big passenger glider, The T. L. S., and its nine month's cruise. . .
This is the only authentic published log of the trip with Miss Grossir as co-operator at the controls.

September, '29, The T. L. S. easily left the field with fourteen passengers on board.

November 14. The first stop for the glider and a pleasing showing was made in a new field of activity for T. L. S. members. This was their first year in Debate. The affirmative team won 2-1, over the Prokorama negative team while the T. L. S. negative lost 2-1, to the Laurian affirmative.

November 16. The T. L. S. made its second stop at the Girls' Gym, where the Fall party was held with the Laurians. Everyone enjoyed the affair immensely and seemed to be having a wonderful trip aboard the glider.

December. The T. L. S. helped the Boys' and Girls' Hi-Y clubs by contributing to their Christmas project.

The T. L. S. glider floated into the New year in the best of condition with a number of happy, hard-working girls on board.

March. A remarkable landing was made and the crew and passengers enjoyed a pot-luck supper in the Recreation rooms of G. H. S. Afterwards they attended a "talkie" at the Orpheum. The evening was one of great fun.

May. The T. L. S. Glider completed its club project, which was to give the High School Band a musical instrument.

June. The glider came to its final stop for the year when the T. L. S. banquet was held for the Seniors.

The trip was one of the outstanding successes of the years of T. L. S., made possible through the fine co-operation and good sportsmanship of every club member. Each girl fulfilled her part on the trip by appearing on the weekly club programs and helping in every possible way to carry out the purpose of the Twentieth Century Literary Society. The next trip for the T. L. S. Glider will begin next September with a new group of passengers on board and an almost new crew. The Alumni passengers wish it every success and an even more prosperous year than this has been.

F. D. C. Chronicle

The Franklins began another successful, possibly the most successful, year in their history.

In the annual Triple Debate, our affirmative team composed of Rollin Laughner, leader, Russell Johnson and Bobby Layton defeated the Boys' Science negative team, although our negative team, Joe Strasburger, leader, Kenneth Hartman, and Frank Potter were defeated by the Girls' Science affirmative.

On December 20, the annual fall party was held.

Also the annual Founder's Day banquet was held at the Galesburg Club on February 20. On this occasion there were sixty present including many alumni.

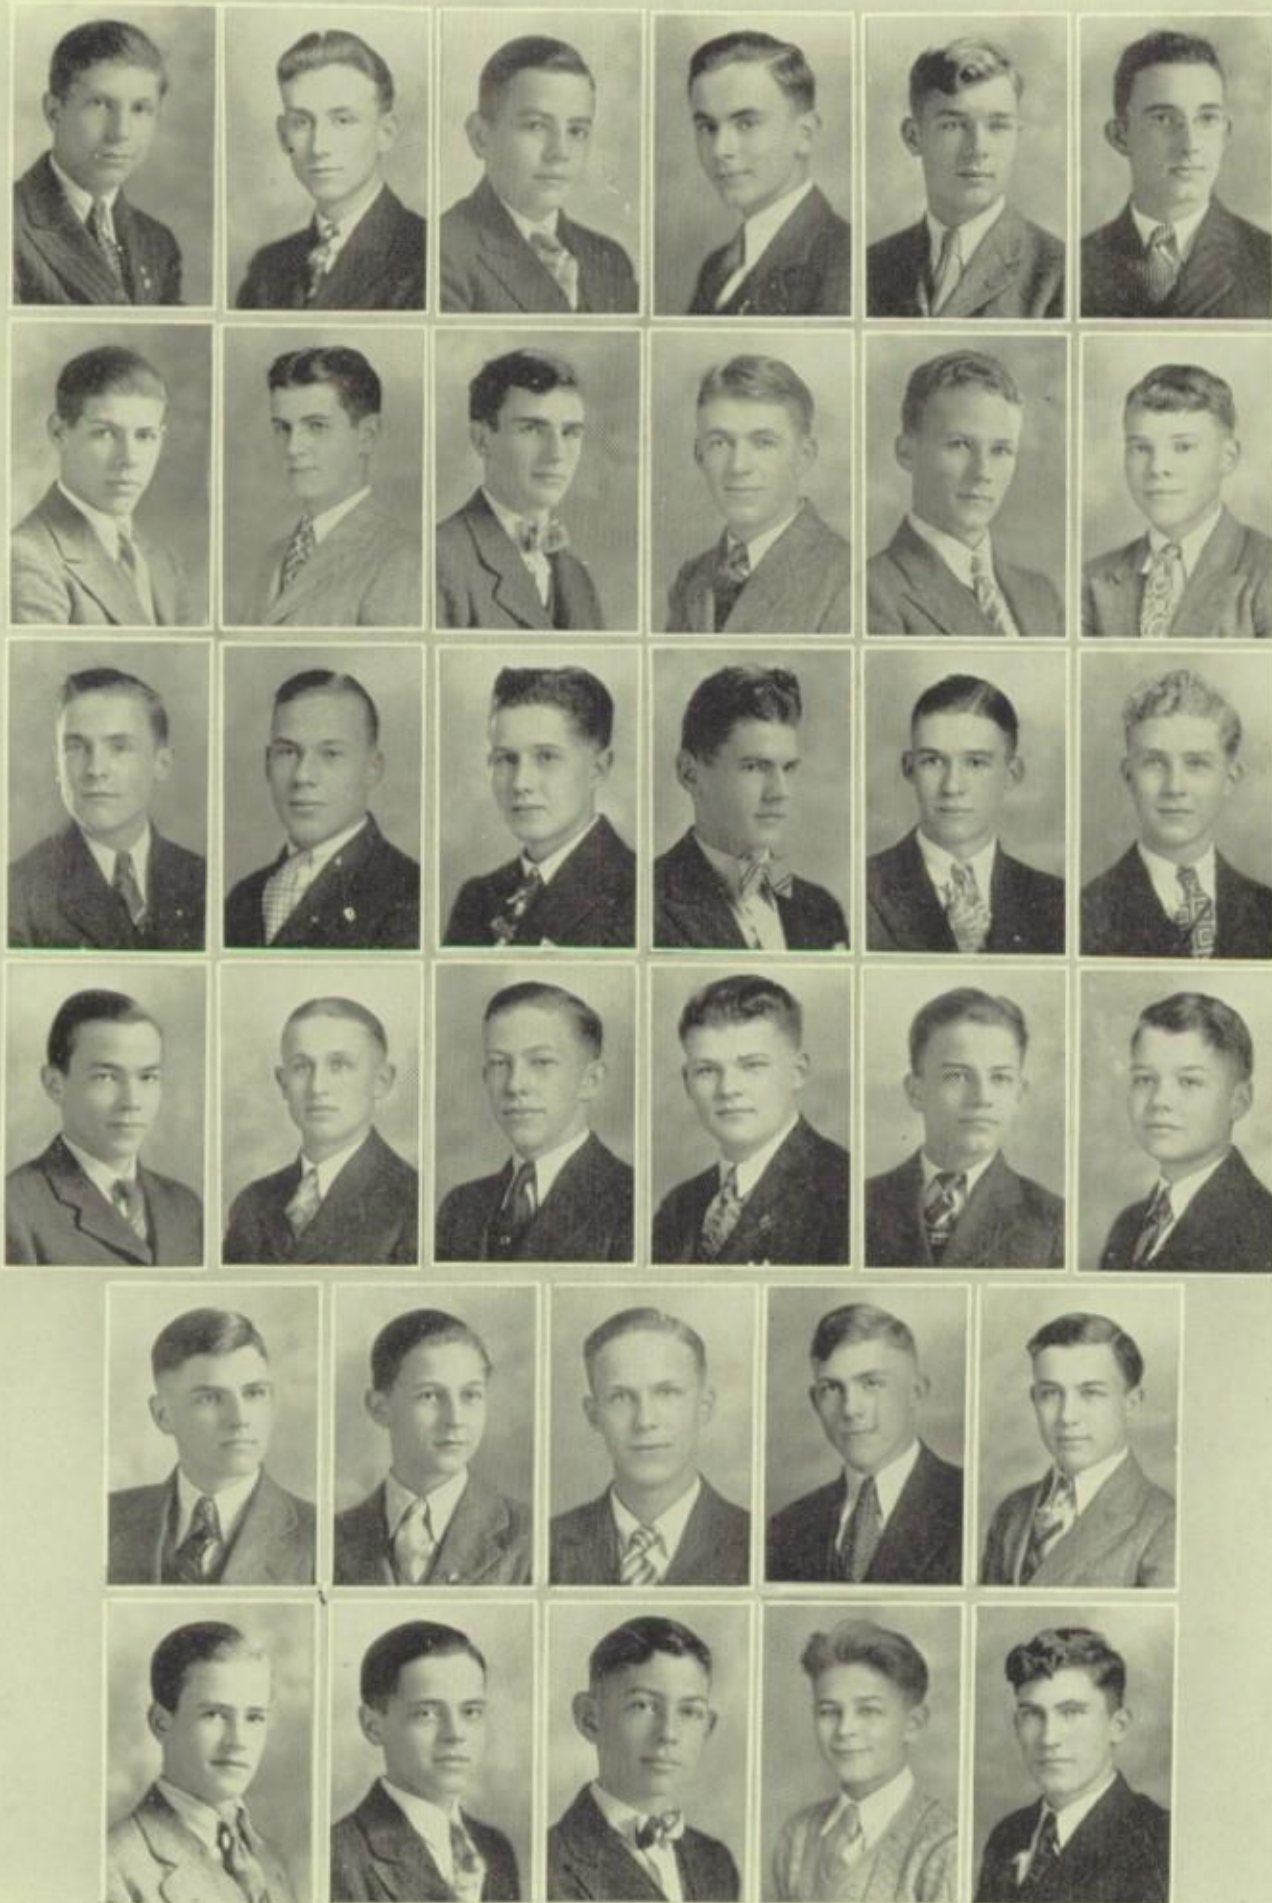

We presented a pay assembly on March 14, entitled "War", written and directed by Rollin Laughner. The proceeds cleared the two year project and left us with "money in the bank."

This year the Franklins enjoyed the largest club in their history.

The Franklins entered a team in the Intra-Club basketball tournament. Frank Potter was Galesburg's representative in the Boys' Declam. A Franklin was business manager of the Budget Staff, besides many other Franklins on the staff. Two Franklins, Russell Johnson and Joe Strasburger, were on the Big Nine Debate Board. The Franklins again led the boys' clubs in scholarship, an honor which they have retained since they won the final award of the scholarship cup from 1925-27. Its members were represented in practically every activity of the G. H. S. and have done a great deal for the school.

The annual spring party was a huge success and every senior was sorry to say goodbye.

The Franklins feel that they have done well in all lines of Club endeavor and have been faithful to their club motto.

Tri Mu Club Trial

Scene: Courtroom—Second Day.

Judge: Will the court come to order! Today will end the case of "People vs. Tri Mu Club. Miss Snoopenhoff is first plaintiff.

Miss Snoopenhoff: I accuse this club of dancing on the evenings of the Non Club Member Sophomore Party and the Christmas party. They appeared in short dresses, and dance music was played, which is an unheard of thing in this locality.

Judge: Miss Hopeless Gossip will now take the stand.

Miss H. Gossip: The Tri Mu Club sold eskimo pies, candy, cocoa, and doughnuts to their fellow school mates. This should be prohibited for sweet meats cause indigestion and bad teeth.

Judge: Mrs. Izatso is third plaintiff.

Mrs. Izatso: I accuse this club of taking lunches and hiking out to Lincoln Park. That was the only topic discussed at the "Busty News Club" the next afternoon. Such boyish actions should not be allowed. Now when I was a young—

Judge: That will be all Mrs. Izatso. Mrs. Curtainpeep is last plaintiff.

Mrs. Curtainpeep: This club joined with another club and gave a Spring Party. This not being enough disturbance, they also took part in the Junior-Senior Banquet which caused quite a bit of excitement.

Judge: You have heard the last of the complaints against this club. The jury will return a verdict within ten minutes.

Judge: The jury returns a verdict of guilty and sentences the Tri Mu Club to such and better entertainment for 1930-31.

National Honor Society

Galesburg Chapter

Founded 1927

President	ROBERT MILLER
Vice-President	CORA LOUISE BOWER
Secretary	LOUISE KUHL
Treasurer	BERNARD BURFORD

The National Honor Society completed its fourth year in Galesburg High School with an increase of thirty-seven new members to the ten remaining from last year. While the chapter was not active, it nevertheless was an important influence in the lives of the members and among the students of the school.

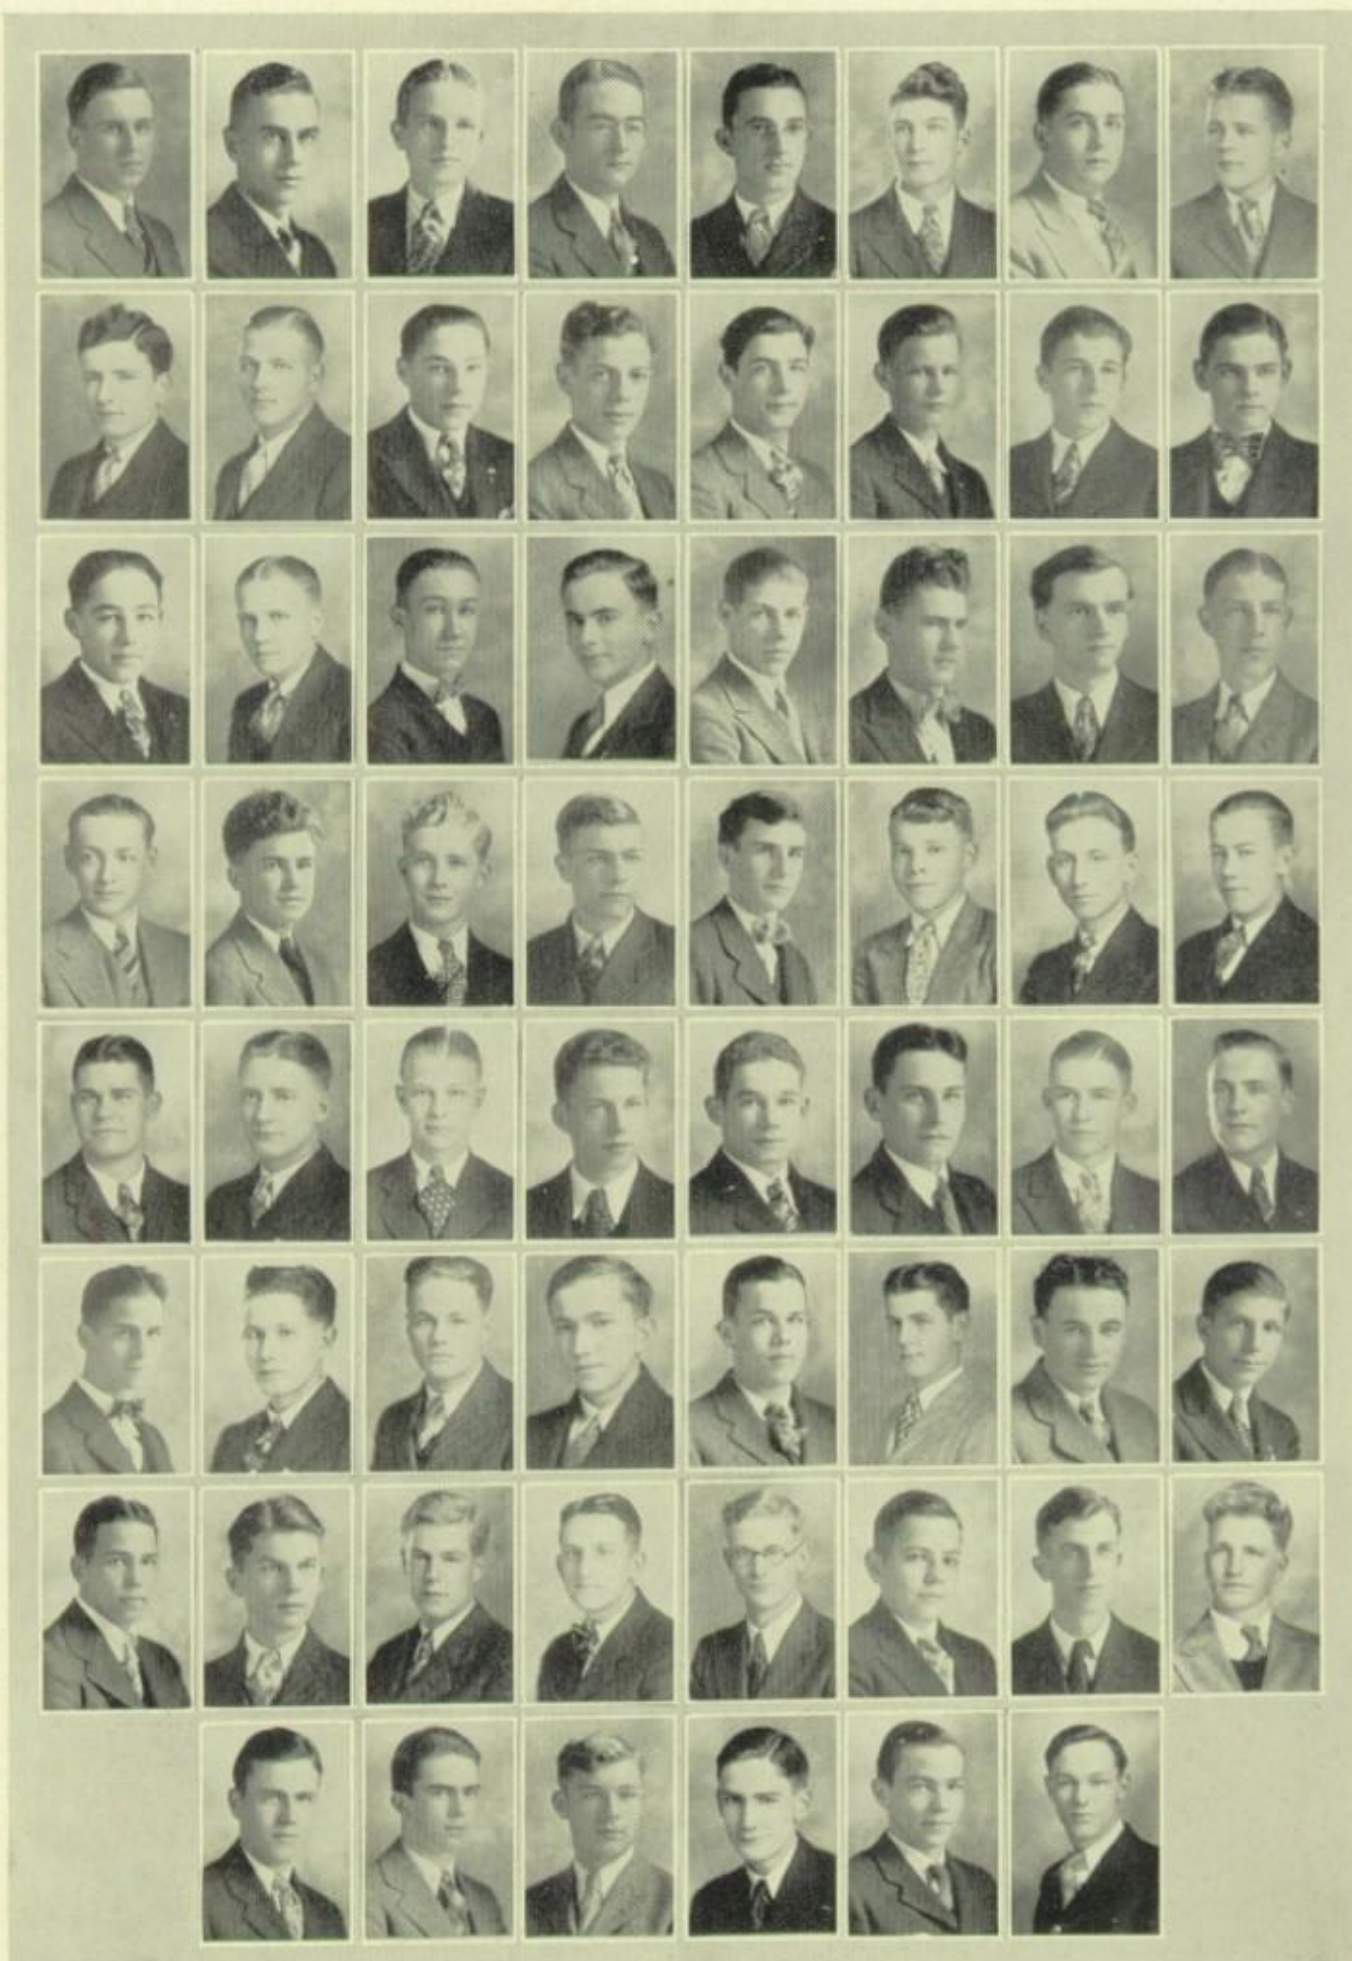

The purpose of the organization is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character among students. To give recognition of these qualities the National Honor Society has been widely instituted in secondary schools throughout the country.

At an impressive ceremony before a general assembly the new members who had been selected because of worthwhile character, service to the school, high standard of scholarship, and ability in leadership were inducted. These new members were selected from the upper one-fourth of the Senior and Junior classes. However, no more than fifteen per cent of the graduating Seniors, ten per cent of the 12B class, and five per cent of the 11A class may be selected.

The emblem of the Society is a burning torch surrounded by the letters C., S., L., S. This is a symbol of the meaning of the National Honor Society. The burning flame should ever remind one to be of service to others and guard the high ideals for which it stands.

The purpose of the Hi-Y was closely followed this year with the greatest success.

Early in the year a retreat was held at Camp Shaubena. This event was soon followed by a freshman mixer. The mixer proved to be one of the outstanding successes of the first semester.

After the football season a banquet was sponsored in honor of the team and athletic committee. This was the second annual banquet which was planned to be an annual affair last year.

In November the annual Coldbrook meeting was held. It was well attended by members from Galesburg.

The Older Boys' Conference at Danville was attended by twenty-six boys during Thanksgiving vacation, who saw their Hi-Y president elected second vice-president of the conference.

During the Christmas period the Hi-Y extended their services to the Empty Stocking Club by collecting and repairing toys for the poor children. In conjunction with the Girls' Hi-Y, they presented an original play written by Rollin Laughner, Jr., for the annual Christmas assembly. The first semester was drawn to a close by the annual alumni banquet at the Y. M. C. A., on December 30.

The Hi-Y planned a banquet to honor those who had taken part in the forensic activities during the school year. This banquet, which was held late in the spring, was an outstanding success.

The impressive induction services of the Hi-Y were given in Knoxville, Oneida, and in a local Galesburg church during the second semester.

The Hi-Y was fortunate in having a number of band and orchestra members in its group and a band was organized.

As a project this year the club presented a set of vocational guidance books to the school library. With that the Hi-Y closed a successful year and left a splendid record of accomplishments.

The Inner Circle for both semesters was made up of the officers, and Helen Parkins, Kathryn Scott, Frances Hazen, Maurine Kelly, Jean Barber, Elizabeth Oakes, Laura Louise Kuhl, and Romona Dunn.

The purpose of the Girls' Hi-Y is: "To create, maintain, and extend higher standards of Christian living throughout the school and community."

Membership was extended to the girls of the junior class. The induction ceremony, which is given to pledge the new members into the club and is based on the club purpose was very impressive.

At Christmas time the Girls' Hi-Y donated money and clothing to the charities. The Boys' and Girls' Hi-Y's sponsored the Christmas assembly.

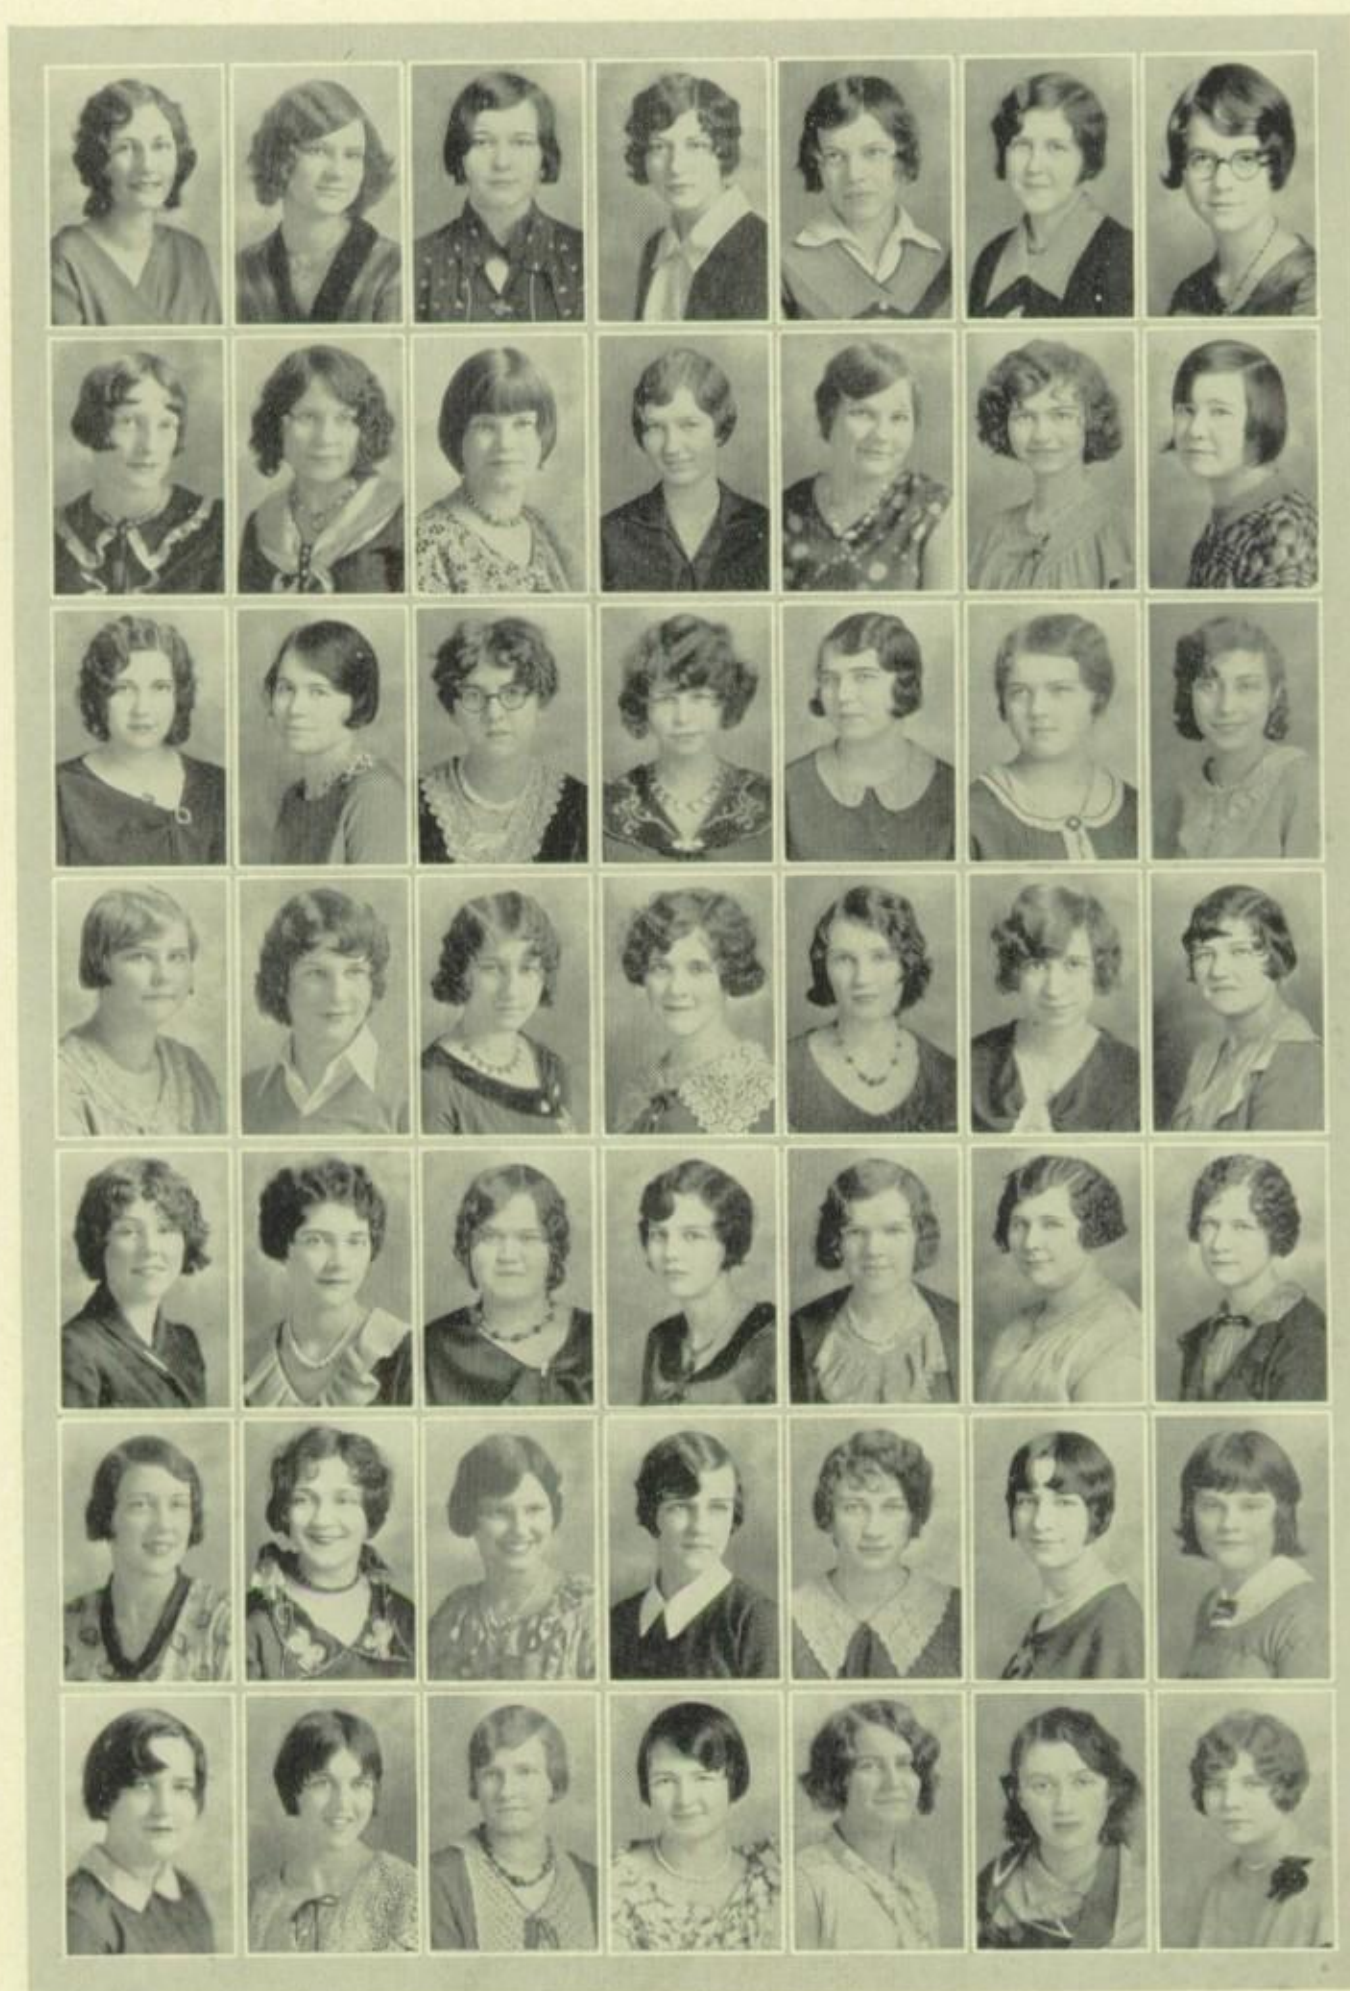

The Girls' Hi-Y was very fortunate to secure outside talent which made the programs worthwhile. Very interesting talks were given by Miss Smith, Mr. I. D. Pennock, Miss Hoover, Mr. F. R. Jelliff, Mrs. G. W. Thompson, and Rev. Carman. Miss Johanna Lind contributed some clever readings, while Miss Edna Nickel entertained with piano selections. Miss Ruth Ross favored us with vocal numbers. Miss Cox, the advisor, did much to make the year a success.

Senior Class of 1930

The Senior Class under the capable leadership of Miss Smith, the advisor, enjoyed a very successful year. It was decided, as last year, to postpone the election of the officers until the second semester. To act as a governing body, three students were elected from a group of five who had been selected by a nominating committee. They were Carolyn Shifley, Dale Rowe, and Bernard Burford.

Later the officers were elected. They were as follows: President, Joe Strasburger; Vice-President, Leslie Fortman; Secretary, Frances Dunn; Boys' Treasurer, Dale Stafford; Girls' Treasurer, Carolyn Shifley.

The class enjoyed the usual social events, Senior Day and the party. It also presented a play "The Youngest", and an assembly.

Note: The pictures which appear in this section include not only the graduating Seniors, but also all those who at the end of the first semester 1929-1930 had sufficient credit to be classed as 12A students.

MY COMRADE

A sunset has slowly faded.
A dawn has died ere born.
A song has softly ended.
A heart is rent and torn.
The wind has ceased its roaring.
The birds have hushed their song.
All the world is mourning
My comrade who has gone.

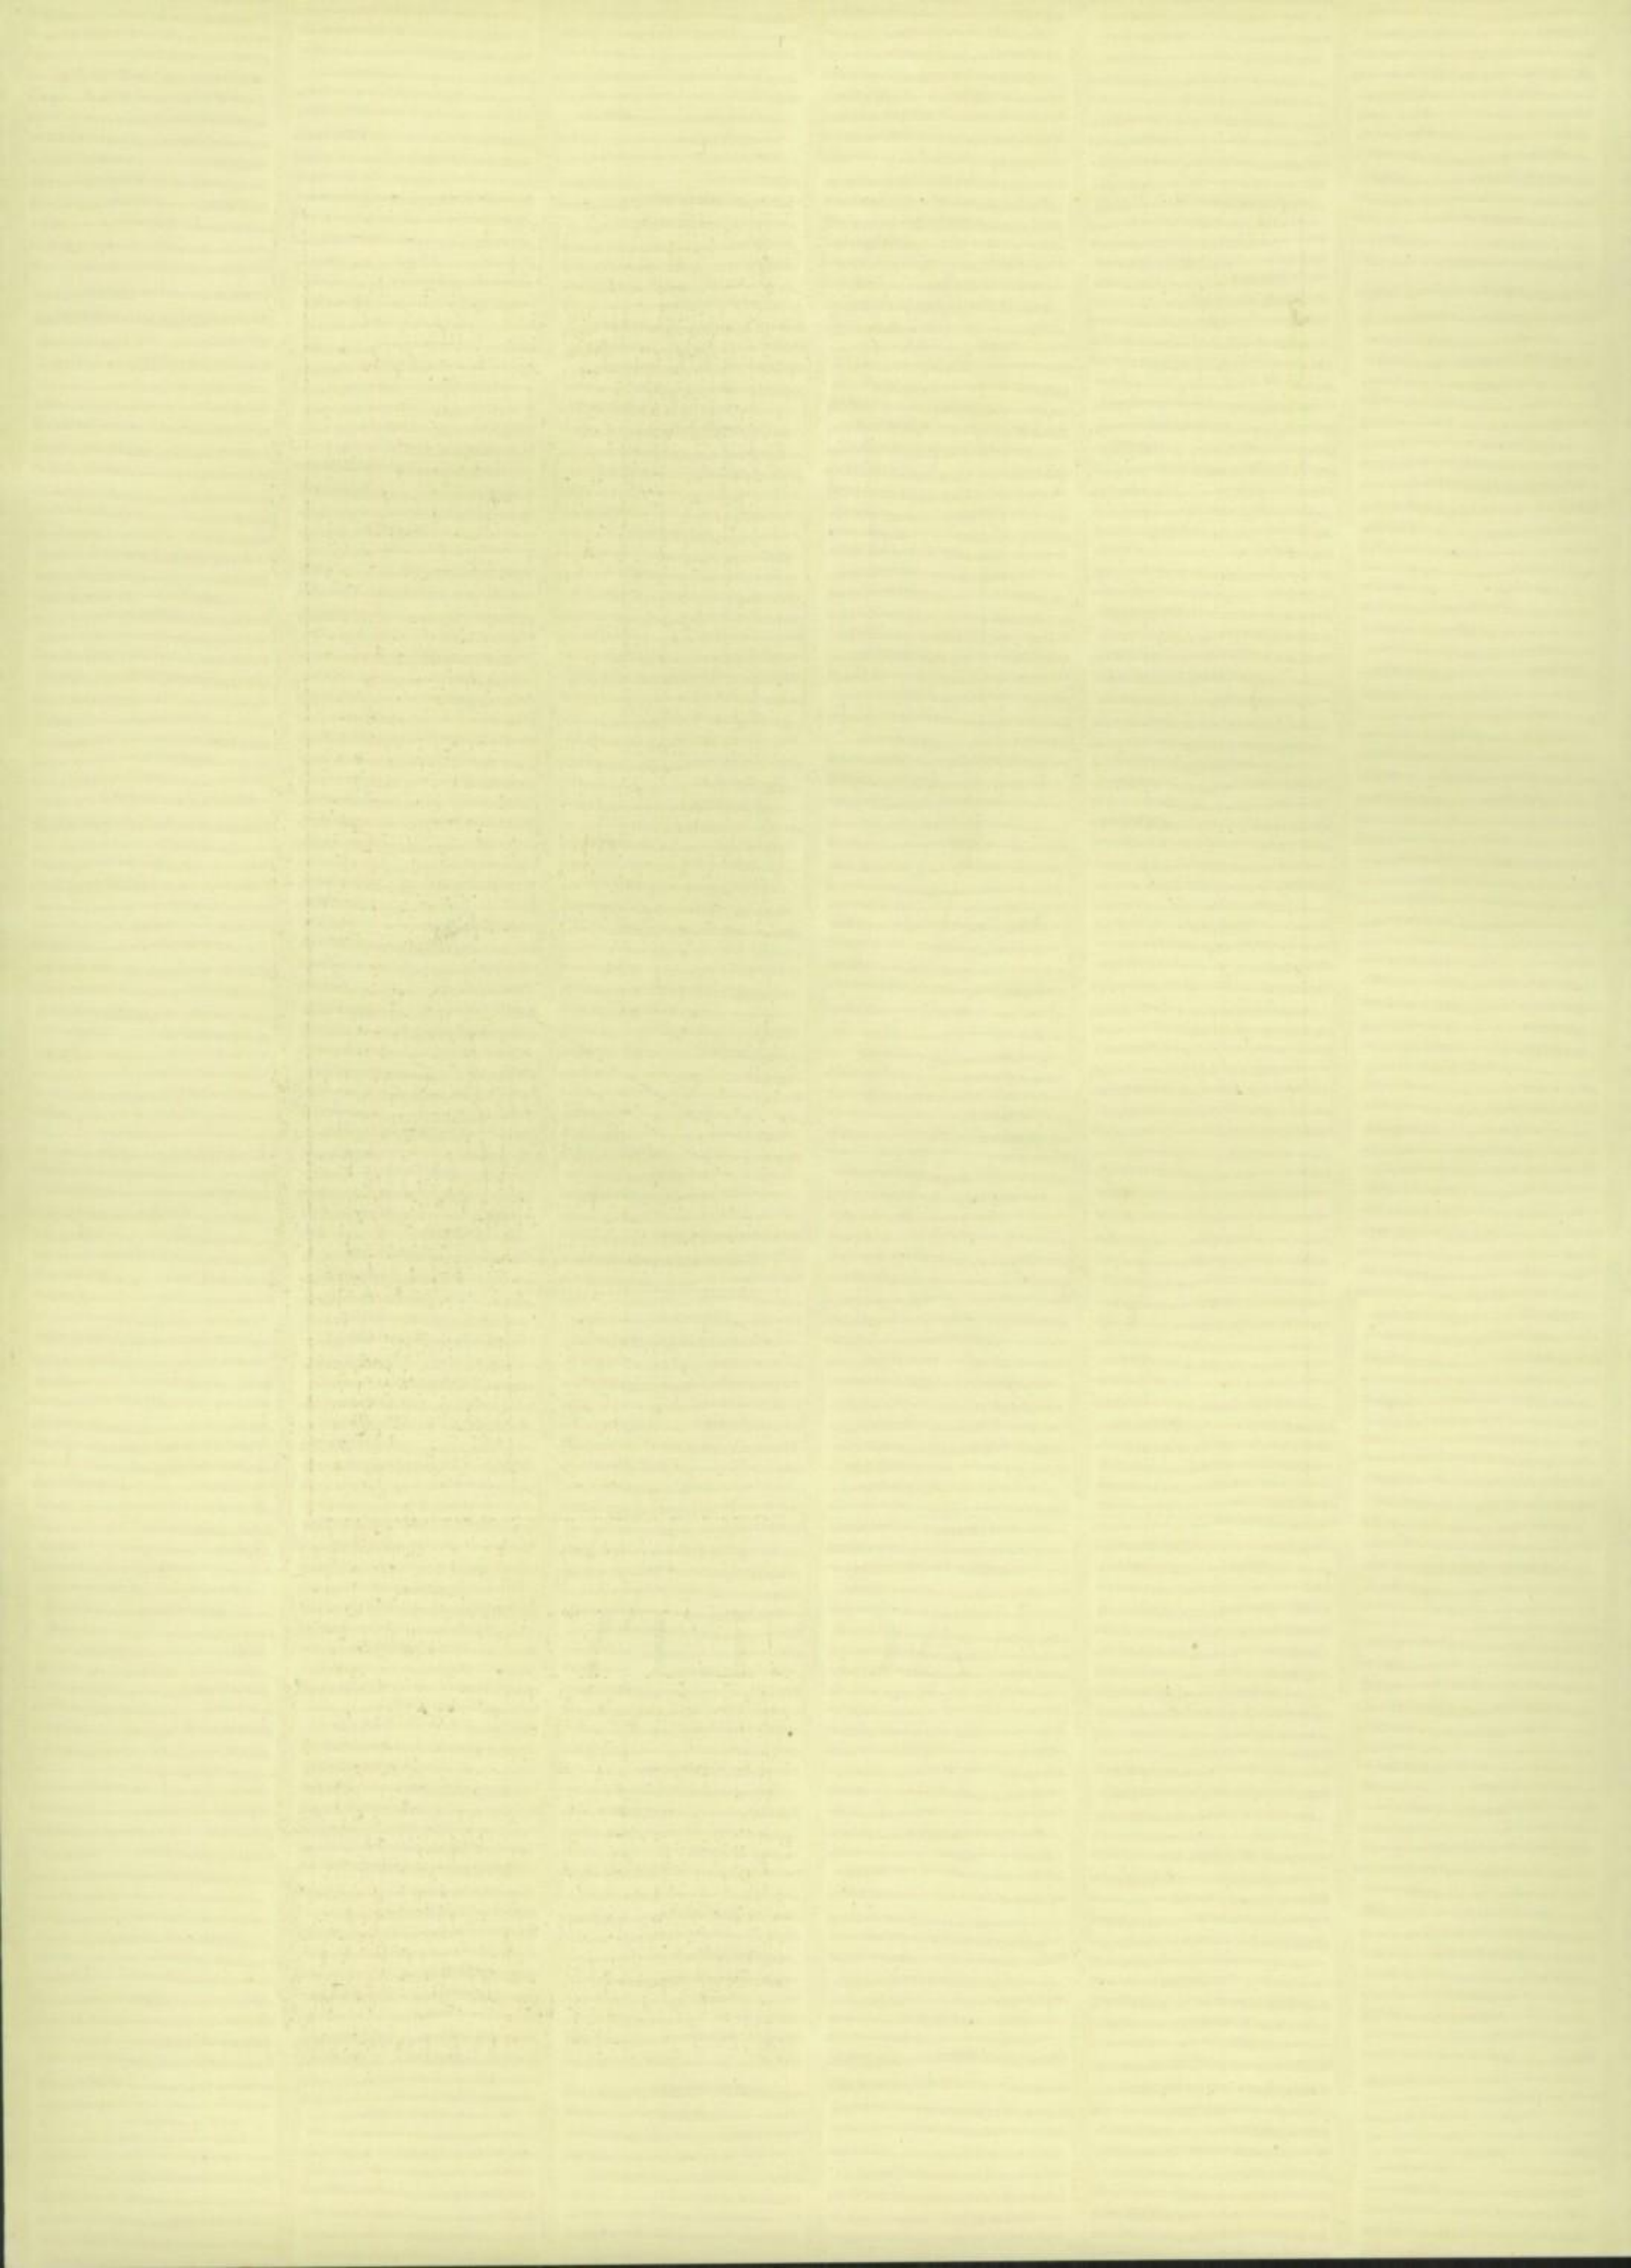

The sun is once more shining.
The flowers again do bloom.
My heart has ceased its pining
A light has pierced the gloom.
My comrade is only sleeping,
Just resting from the strife.
I am foolish for my weeping.
He is not dead but has eternal life.

MISS COX

DEAN OF GIRLS

"What can I do for you?" is the cheery greeting which Miss Cox invariably gives to every girl who finds her way into the dean's office. Fairness and the ability to see both sides of every question are two of the outstanding characteristics which have endeared Miss Cox to the hearts of every girl who has come in contact with her. The willingness to listen to any problem, to offer her assistance in its solution are two qualities which make Miss Cox so popular among the high school students.

Miss Cox is also the advisor of the Girls' Hi-Y club, and it is through her unceasing efforts that the club has had such a successful year.

MR. ROBERTSON

DEAN OF BOYS

During the few years which Mr. Robertson has been dean of boys, his fine personality has won the admiration and respect of all who are privileged to know him. His ready sympathy and frankness have made him the friend of all the boys in the school. He is fair and square with all with whom he comes in contact. The boys go to him with all their difficult problems, as they know he will help them to the best of his ability. He understands the perplexing problems which arise in each boy's life, and this sense of understanding is one of the qualities which has made him so efficient in his advisory capacity.

A Full House

"A Full House", by Fred Jackson, was the name of the three-act farce which was presented this year by the expression department, under the direction of Miss Grossir.

The play was given in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, December 13, by the following cast:

Parks, an English servant.....	Charles Larson
Susie, the maid.....	Helen Parkins
Ottily Howell, a bride.....	Rebecca Harlan
Miss Winnecker, the aunt.....	Frances Hazen
Daphne Charters, Ottily's sister.....	Dorothy Millikin
Nicholas King, the thief.....	Frank Potter
Ned Pembroke, Jr., an only son.....	Atwood Lawrence
George Howell, a bridegroom.....	Russell Johnson
Daugherty, a police sergeant.....	Frederick Plette
Jim Mooney, a policeman.....	Milton Keach
Kearny, a policeman.....	Charles Hinckley
Mrs. Fleming, owner of the apartment.....	Jeanne Scott
Vera Vernon, a show girl.....	Katheryn Griffin
Mrs. Pembroke, from Boston.....	Margaret Hilton

The play dealt with the adventures of a newly-wed couple. The day after the wedding the groom went to Cleveland for a client, or so he told his wife. Mrs. Pembroke's rubies were stolen while he was away, and because his bag was interchanged with that of a crook, the finger of suspicion pointed to the groom. After several explanations and many thrilling experiences, the mystery was solved, and the near tragedy of a domestic separation was averted.

THRIFT!

Builds character, leads to happiness, contentment, and independence, while extravagance, if persisted in, tends to lower the standard of character and leads to restlessness, discontent, disappointment, sorrow and, in many cases, to poverty.

If this is so, then there isn't a student in our High Schools who can afford to deny thrift right of way in his life.

WORN STEPS

Have you ever walked up those worn, sunken steps in Churchill school? I have, and I wonder how many students it has taken to wear them down as much as they are.

A thousand students use the stairs every day, five thousand every week, 20,045 a month, and 180,948 a year or in other words 4,500,000 people have ascended the stairs since the school was built!

Listen! Think! Stop! How many cow hides have been used to make soles for the shoes the students wear? A conservative estimate places the number of hides at 2,797,546.54. If this number of hides had been used to cover the hard wooden seats upon which the students are forced to sit, they could have soft cushions upon every chair and seat in school and would have enough left over to supply the world's demand for basketball covers for the coming sixteen and one-half years.

The hides used and the wood worn away by the continual treading of two thousand feet are only a small item. Think of the energy wasted by the students as they slowly climb their way up those tedious stairs; think of the loss of energy wasted by students having to force their way through the atmosphere, and of heat generated by their toiling, sweating bodies as they labor up the many flights. The latest figures available estimate that the energy lost every day by climbing those stairs is equal to the power needed to turn the earth one sixty-fourth of its way about its axis.

Now students, my job as efficiency expert, is to do away with this stupendous waste, and because of my training as an economist while serving in the Scotch army, I believe that I can do it. My plans, as outlined below, have been submitted to the school board for their approval.

First, I will move the second floor down to where the first floor is, then no one will have to waste his energy climbing the stairs to the second floor.

Second, I will move the first floor where the second story is because no one has to climb any stairs to reach the first floor anyway.

Third, I will provide leather cushioned seats for all students with the money saved by saving the shoe-leather that would otherwise be wasted.

Fourth, I will not charge the school anything for this plan. I am a big hearted, liberal minded, foresighted man, and I love to help humanity.

ROBERT D. MILLER

ARMISTICE DAY

No longer do the soldiers go,
Marching, marching, row on row,
No longer does the bugle blow,
Nor the drum beat in the street.
The cannons once aflame with death, are still,
While the heroes who manned them
Lie asleep on yonder hill.
They gave their lives, their love, their all,
That the things they stood for should not fall.
Through years like a vast curtain spread
We have not forgotten thee, oh honored dead,
Nor the deeds you did that we might live
In peace that only God by thee could give.
We look now from our daily task
To watch our soldiers as they pass.
The drums again echo in the street,
Once more we hear the tramp of marching feet,
The dead, and living, pass in great array
On to the dawning of a bright new day,
Where the peace for which our heroes fought
Is now so swiftly being wrought.
As we stand here with uncovered head,
We honor thee, our heroes—the living, and the dead.

Well, kids, believe it or not, this is absolutely the very last time you'll ever hear about me! I sed that out loud onct, and everybody near me heaved a big sigh of releef. I'm sorto glad I aint near you.

Ya know it's all my kid sister's fault, too. She makes me plenty mad, in fact there's about only one thing in this hole world whut I am glad about; I'm sure glad my little sister ain't twins! Gosh that wood be feerce!

Honest, I hate to think of what that wood be like. Imagine whut wood happen if there wuz two of them pests kicking me at onct. Why instead of bein' able to hop around on one foot afterwards, I'd 'jist flop down on the floor er where ever I wuz, and I'd 'jist have to stay there fer hours, 'cause if one sister kin cripple you fer half a day, why two sisters cood sorto lay you out fer all day.

And another thing. If I had two sisters instead of one why then I'd never be able to keep any of my candy at all, 'cause one sister eats half of my candy now, and with two of them dern kids I woodn't git any at all.

Student Talent

Ya see the thing whut got me all rattled up agin about my sister is this. I keep a diary, and I jist rite whutever I feel like in it, and thin I take those notes and make up a flock of stories jist like this one (which as I sed before is my last.)

The reason why this is the last one is this. I have me a swell lock on my diary, and I kept my key hid all the time so's my kid sister coodn't git into it. 'Cause I knew jist whut she'd do if she found it and she did too.

Fer a long time I kept my key hid under the garbage pail out in back of the garage, but I'd git orful tired of running out there every time I'd think of something else to rite. So I jist brote it in the house the other day and slung it under my bed after I'd locked my diary.

Well it happened that my little sister wuz playing hide-and-go-seek the next day, and ya mite know she'd go and hide under my bed and find that key. Gosh, she must of called up every kid in town to kum over and read my diary, 'cause when I kum home that nite, our porch wuz jist filled with kids whut wuz listening to my sister reeding that diary out loud.

Whin she saw me kuming up the walk, she grabbed that diary and started running round and round our house 'till I wuz jist orful dizzy and everytime I'd almost katch her why some of them dern kids wood git in my way, and she'd git away agin. Well, she must of got sorta dizzy too 'cause after awhile she beet it down to the corner, and jist as she got there why some ole car with a trailer hooked on the back kum along.

Say, I gota give my sister credit! She give that diary a good sling, and it landed rite smack inside that trailer. 'Course I started after it, but in a minute I noticed it sed on the back, "Pike's Peak or Bust." Well I knew that car coodn't hold out to Pike's Peak, but jist the same I wuzn't going to chase it 'till it busted. Them ole cars fool ya lots of times.

Well, that's that! My diary's gone, but them kids sure liked it while it lasted, and fer jist that reeson I ain't never going to keep another one. At least not 'till there's a little more privacy around my house.

So until my little sister gits married er runs away from home, I guess you'll sorta have to do without me 'cause I ain't taking no more chances with a diary. It ain't safe!

FRANCES HAZEN.
